Tobin And Black Honored For Community Service

Two of East Liverpool's "outstanding citizens," William A. Black of the Ohio Power Co. and Judge Louis Tobin, were honored for their many contributions to the community during the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Bosses' Night dinner at the Country Club Wednesday. More than 150 attended.

Black was presented the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award, which goes to a man under 36 for outstanding service, and Tobin received the Civic Service Award for a man over 35.

Eddie Finnigan of Cleveland, athletic director at Western Reserve University, was guest speaker.

Ralph A. Finley, past president and a life member of the Jaycees and a past recipient of the DSA, made the presentation to Black, while William Webber, a member of the Board of Directors, presented the CSA to Tobin.

BLACK WAS born in Brackenridge, Pa., and attended grade school and high school at Tarentum, Pa. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of and master's degree in electrical engineering from M. I. T. and has taken graduate work at Penn State and the College of Steubenville. He is a registered engineer.

He was employed by the Aluminum Co. of America and several other firms while attending MIT. He took a position with Ohio Power in 1950 as a commercial and industrial sales representative. Since then he has been an administrative assistant, managerial assistant, local manager and now is a district manager.

He is married and the father of two children. He and his family reside at 3301 Harding Ave. He is a member of the East Liverpool and Wellsville Chambers of Commerce and has been active in the industrial development and community improvement committees of both. He is a member and on the Board of Directors of the Rotary Club, is co-chairman of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council committee and is a member of the official board of the First Methodist Church.

He is an executive board member and member of the finance committee of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council. Black also is president of the Tri-State Science Fair, president of the St. Clair Township Development Association and a member of the Columbiana County Planning Committee to establish a regional planning commission.

He has served as assistant chairman of a Red Cross fund drive, is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Community Fund Association and served as chairman of the past Community Fund drive.

JUDGE TOBIN is a life resident of East Liverpool, having been born here Dec. 23, 1906. He is a 1925 graduate of East Liverpool High School and was class salutatorian. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Ohio State University in 1929 and in June of 1932 he received his bachelor of law degree from Ohio State Law School. He was awarded the "Order of the Coif," a national legal honor society.

He entered military service May 1942. (Turn to BOSSES NIGHT, Page 7)

Group Told Of Steps For City Freeway

Timetable Detailed With Construction To Start Next Week

A timetable for the early phases of construction of the California Hollow-West End Freeway was spelled out Wednesday afternoon at a City Hall conference that brought together spokesmen for the contractors, the State Highway Department, the city, the school district and public utilities whose lines are in the right-of-way.

Jack Hickey of Baker & Hickey at Columbus, which shares the $3,505,777 construction contract with Chapin & Chapin, Inc., of Norwalk, said if weather permits work may begin early next week on the first of the big piers that will support the elevated freeway as it crosses the four-lane section of W. 8th St.

THE COLUMBUS firm will do all the structural work on the project and Chapin & Chapin will be responsible for the grading, draining and paving. Ray Adkins of Norwalk, superintendent, represented Chapin & Chapin.

The discussion was conducted by William McKenna, head of the Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia. Engineer George S. Bloomgren represented the city and Supt. Ralph W. Betts and Sam Brown, a member of the Board of Education, appeared for the school system.

Supt. Donald Duke and Distribution Foreman Harold Peterson represented the water department. Spokesmen also were present from the Ohio Valley Gas Co., the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Ohio Power Co., all affected in varying degrees by the $6 million project.

ALSO EARLY in the project, Baker & Hickey will begin construction of two high retaining walls that will be erected at the west end of the City Hospital site and on the hillside overlooking the point where the new roadway will pass under the Newell Bridge.

The concrete wall at the west end of the hospital property will be 33 feet high and the wall near the Newell Bridge will be 25 feet in height, the plans show. Concurrently with work on Pier No. 1, which will be just north of W. 8th St., Baker & Hickey will make preparations for construction of the retaining walls.

McKenna explained that the plans include the retaining walls so that a minimum amount of property would be affected at the two points for the highway's right-of-way.

Under normal circumstances, there would be a long earth slope between the highway proper and the adjoining property. But to hold property acquisition to a minimum—and consequently not interfere with the City Hospital site—the retaining walls were specified in the plans, McKenna said.

BAKER & HICKEY has established construction headquarters in a trailer immediately south of Westgate School.

McKenna said he has been advised by both contractors that they will give consideration to local residents wherever possible in filling jobs. However, both contractors said their work is just beginning at present and few job opportunities are open. Hiring will not

Cunningham Counsel Hints New Appeal Try

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville has indicated he will seek to file a new appeal on behalf of Ira Cunningham, who faces a 1-5-year prison term on conviction of attempted bribery of a prospective juror.

The Ohio Supreme Court last week turned down a notice of appeal filed last year because it had not been completed, clearing the way for taking Cunningham, ex-city police officer, into custody to start the prison term.

However, Cunningham has not been located by county authorities since a capias was given the sheriff's department last Thursday.

U.S. Plane Carrying 28 Feared Down In Atlantic

Kennedy Makes Disclosure

Fliers' Release Held Step To Better U.S.-Soviet Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy announced with dramatic impact Wednesday night that the Soviet Union has freed two crewmen of a U.S. reconnaissance plane the Soviets shot down over Arctic waters last July 1.

Kennedy calmly made the electrifying disclosure at his first news conference as President. He also announced he was continuing the ban on U.S. espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Kennedy hailed release of the airmen as amounting to removal of "a serious obstacle to improvement of Soviet-American relations."

The Soviet government called it a reflection of a serious desire to open a new stage in relations — gravely strained since last spring — between the two powers.

Kennedy said in response to questions that this country made no concessions to the Kremlin to win release of the fliers — Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., and Capt. John R. McKone of Topeka, Kan.

The President reported the men were turned loose at 2 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, Wednesday, and were en route back to the United States. They arrived by plane in Amsterdam, The Netherlands, three hours after Kennedy's announcement.

The fliers, held captive by the Soviets for almost seven months, were in Amsterdam only briefly and then took off for America. Indications were they would arrive in Washington about 4 p.m. today. Their joyous wives were being flown here for a reunion.

At his news conference, broadcast nationwide on live television and radio, Kennedy was not asked whether the United States or the Soviet Union had taken the initiative toward release of the fliers whose downed plane was an Air Force RB47. And the President did not reply directly to a question on whether the release resulted from some action he took.

After the conference there were conflicting versions.

An official in close touch with Kennedy reported that Soviet Premier Khrushchev first brought up the matter when he called U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson to the Kremlin last Saturday.

At the State Department, however, top officials said they understood that Thompson — acting on instructions from Kennedy — took the initiative regarding release of the airmen during that same meeting with Khrushchev.

Kennedy, wearing a dark blue pin-striped suit, was a completely unruffled master of the situation during the entire 36½ minutes of his first meeting with newsmen.

No Orders To Board Her

U.S. Plane Shadows Ship Headed For West Africa

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Shadowed by a U.S. Navy patrol plane, the captive liner Santa Maria raced toward West Africa today. U.S. destroyers set out to intercept the fugitive ship but President Kennedy said American officers had not been ordered to board her.

Portuguese rebel leader Henrique Galvao, commanding the seized liner as "occupied" Portuguese territory in his revolt launched on the high seas, boldly announced his destination as Angola, the ancient Portuguese colony on the coast of southwest Africa.

But this could be a ruse to mislead interceptors. The Santa Maria—at last report half way between Puerto Rico and West Africa and heading on a southeasterly course—still was in a position to swing back toward South America.

Galvao, in a radio talk with the U.S. Naval pilot who tracked him down, refused to turn around and go to San Juan and bluntly told him: "Destination Angola."

But he added: "Will accept conference on board Santa Maria with U.S. authorities or any other than Portuguese or Spanish (Salazar's close ally)."

The 66-year-old rebel leader, a former army captain and leading Portuguese writer, told the Navy pilot, Lt. (j.g.) Daniel L. Krauss, he wanted to "discharge passengers unharmed—earliest." He has aboard 600 passengers, including 38 Americans, but messages from the Americans to their families indicated they were enjoying their unexpectedly extended cruise.

Maritime experts estimated that the 20,906-ton Santa Maria, steaming at around 480 miles a day, could be near the African coast Sunday. But it would take longer to reach Angola. It is roughly 5,000 miles to Angola from the area where the Santa Maria was taken over last week-end. On its stop in Venezuela, before the takeover, the ship took on food and fuel sufficient for about 10 days.

The Salazar government, denouncing Galvao's band as pirates, said it would accept con-

Report Tells Of Explosion In Vicinity

Missing Military Transport Was On Flight From Azores

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (AP)—A U.S. military plane with 28 persons on board was believed down in the Atlantic today off the southeast coast of Newfoundland.

A report relayed by the U.S. Coast Guard said a U.S. Navy plane reported seeing an explosion 28 miles south of here shortly before the missing plane was due to arrive at 6:15 a.m.

Canadian search and rescue headquarters at Torbay, Nfld., said they believe the explosion was more likely a flare.

The plane, a C118 four-engine military transport version of the DC6, was on a flight from the Azores. It was last reported at 2:30 a.m. when it checked in with the control tower at Gander, Nfld. It was then 455 miles east of Argentinia.

It failed to report an hour later as scheduled. Radio checks with other planes and ships in the area failed to locate it.

The plane had enough fuel to last until 10:30 a.m.

It was on a flight from Port Lyautey, Morocco, to Norfolk, Va., with stops scheduled in the Azores and at Argentinia.

At McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., a spokesman said the missing plane had 23 persons aboard—10 U.S. Navy crewmen and 13 passengers.

El Salvador's Control Seen As In Doubt

GUATEMALA (AP)—Control of El Salvador was in doubt today following a revolt by a self-proclaimed anti-Communist military junta and reports that supporters of the previous leftist junta were making a stand.

Troops loyal to the former ruling group were reported dug in at Zapote Fort in San Salvador, strongest military post in the capital and located just across the street from the government palace held by the rebels. But reports filtering across the border said the new junta was negotiating with the armed holdouts.

Details were still sketchy as to the state of the revolt which erupted Wednesday in the small-est of the 21 American republics.

A member of the new five-man junta, Antonio Rodriguez Port, broadcast over El Salvador radio that his group had full command over the armed forces. Port said his group had acted because "the country faced 'very serious danger' from forces of both the extreme right and extreme left."

Reports from across the border said the rebel command had arrested a number of leftist leaders and that students were demonstrating in favor of the old military-civilian junta that threw out President Jose Maria Lemus on Oct. 26.

Travelers arriving from El Salvador in Managua, capital of neighboring Nicaragua, said a child had been killed and a member of the former junta wounded in fighting which followed the revolt. The official was not identified.

These travelers said martial law has been clamped on the tense capital. Other reports reaching Guatemala told of looting in downtown San Salvador with some stores ransacked.

Butch Takes New Job

LISBON — Daniel A. Butch of Leetonia, who resigned as clerk of the Columbiana County commissioners, has accepted an accountant position with the Bricker & Bricker Construction Co. of Salem, beginning Feb. 1. Butch resigned his clerk's position in a letter accepted at the board's meeting Monday.

Cold Moderates But—

Heavy Snow Alert Issued With 3-5-Inch Fall Seen

The sub-zero cold wave was moderating today but it opened the door to a possible heavy snow of 3 to 5 inches, starting this afternoon.

The Northeast section of the state was alerted for the snow, expected to reach the peak of the fall by Friday morning. Highway crews were alerted.

The new storm apparently was moving out of the west and the western part of the state was to get its first flakes this morning. The west was expecting one to 3 inches and Eastern Ohio 3 to 5 inches.

The first snow started falling in East Liverpool about 11 a. m. Meanwhile, temperatures eased considerably after the sub-zero were siege of Wednesday. There were two official below zero readings in the county this morning but the Ohio Valley got milder marks—5 above at Dam 7 at Midland, 13 above at the Stratton Super-dam and 9 above in downtown East Liverpool.

Edwin Copeland reported 5 below at his U.S. weather station at Millport, with 6 above at 8 a. m., and the Leetonia garage of the State Highway Department had 2 below at midnight and also 6 above at 8 a. m.

The forenoon temperatures were well on its way to the day's expected high range—14 to 18 degrees. Tonight's low will be 10 to 14. Friday, will continue cold with snow flurries.

Ice was appearing in the Ohio River for the first time this winter as a result of the severe cold. Dam 7 reported the stream frozen from shore-to-shore for about a mile upstream, and the Stratton dam said ice had formed over most of the pool into the East Liverpool area. It was estimated at three-quarters of an inch thick but towboats were keeping the channel open.

If the snow materializes, highway crews will go back to their cindering and plowing tonight, but only two regular "patrol" trucks were out last night, checking intersections and hills.

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co., which imposed a 60-per cent curtailment on industrial use of gas on the West Virginia side, lifted it today after the moderation in the cold.

Gas was curtailed to save the fuel for household heating.

Chester and Newell potteries turned to standby oil equipment although there was some curtailment of production.

The curtailment was lifted at 8 a. m. today, 24 hours after it was ordered for industries between Chester and New Martinsville.

Ice Storm Pelts Parts Of Southeastern U.S.

By The Associated Press
An ice storm pelted sections in the southeastern half of the nation today and more snow fell across broad areas to the north.

Wet weather was reported in nearly half the country as winter's longest and most severe cold wave showed only slight moderation. Below-zero temperatures stung Northern states again, marking more than a week of frigid weather.

A belt of freezing rain and sleet slicked highways and streets across broad areas from southern and eastern Texas through northern parts of the Gulf states, Arkansas, Tennessee and the Carolinas.

4 More Enter For Wellsville Primary Vote

Three more Wellsville candidates filed today and another announced as a rush continued to qualify with the County Election Board for May 2 primary ballot places before the deadline next Wednesday at 4 p. m.

The total entered for city and village primaries stands at 61, including 27 who filed in the last 3 days. However, today's list does not include any new East Liverpool office-seekers.

The new Wellsville candidates are: J. Frederic Russell, Republican, for Council president; Councilman Robert E. Taggart, Democrat, for a fourth term as member-at-large; Solicitor William L. Bush, seeking renomination on the Republican ticket, and C. William Stoddard, who announced he will file Saturday as a GOP candidate for councilman-at-large.

East Palestine also gained a new candidate today and three entered for Leetonia Council seats.

Wayne W. McCauley filed as a Republican candidate for First Ward councilman in East Palestine.

Three Democrats entered for four-year terms on Leetonia Council. They are John V. Grunick, Daniel J. Cullinan and Mildred A. Arfman.

Taggart, an employee of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., resides at 1927 Chester Ave. He is a member of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church and the Columbiana County Welfare Advisory Board. Married and the father of three children, he also served two terms as Fourth Ward councilman.

Russell is a former councilman. Operator of the J. W. Russell Co., he is president of the Perpetual Savings & Loan Association.

Atty. Bush is secretary of the

Soviet Union Releases Two U.S. Airmen

since he took office last Friday. Cool and confident, the 43-year-old President volunteered an announcement near the start of the conference regarding freeing of the fliers. That news topped everything else by a clear margin as the questions and answers ranged over a wide field.

The questions brought these replies on these topics:

Spy Flights—The President said he has ordered continuance of the ban on American espionage flights over Soviet territory. The ban was put into effect last May by President Eisenhower after the Khrushchev furor over the U2 episode — an incident which caused collapse of the Paris summit conference and put Soviet-American relations on the skids.

Nuclear Talks — Kennedy also volunteered that his administration has requested "more time to prepare a clear American position" before resumption at Geneva of negotiations on an atomic test ban. The talks among American, Soviet and British officials had been scheduled to start again Feb. 7. Kennedy is seeking a postponement until late March.

Messages — The President said the State of the Union message he will deliver in person before a joint session of Congress Monday will be followed by others dealing with specific problems. He mentioned two others—one going to the Capitol shortly after the State of the Union document will outline "the steps we think the government could profitably take to provide protection for the unemployed, and also to stimulate the economy." The other, in about two weeks, will tackle the problem of stemming the disturbing flow of gold from the United States.

Dependents Overseas — As for the Eisenhower order cutting back the number of service and civilian family members stationed abroad in a move to reduce the gold flow, Kennedy said he and key aides will decide soon "whether a more satisfactory method of protecting our gold could be secured than providing for the return of Americans serving abroad in the military."

Cuba — "We have no plan at present," said Kennedy, "to resume diplomatic relations with Cuba." He added that his administration is extremely interested in helping to provide a better life for Latin Americans. But he also said—in obvious allusion to the possibility of a Communist takeover of Cuba's Castro regime — that the United States is concerned about any effort to impose "an ideology (in Cuba) which is alien to this hemisphere."

Summit Conference — Kennedy said nothing to slam the door against the possibility of his meeting with Khrushchev. But the President said "there has been no change in my previous statement that there are no plans at the present time" for such a conference. As for whether Khrushchev may come to the United States again in March for another United Nations session, Kennedy said he had seen only newspaper reports on that possibility and preferred not to comment.

Conso — Another announcement the President volunteered at the start of the news conference was that this country will substantially increase its food shipments to the Congo to relieve the famine there. He said the United States will cooperate fully with the United Nations on this project.

Disarmament — Kennedy said "We are preparing clarification of the American positions" on disarmament, and indicated the new administration will move cautiously in that area before taking a public stand.

Ship — The President reported: "I have not given any instructions to the Navy to carry out any boarding operation" against the hijacked Portuguese cruise ship Santa Maria.

Budget—Kennedy doesn't know yet whether his administration will be able to live within the Eisenhower regime's $90.9-billion spending budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. "We have not finished our study," he said.

Kennedy's news conference was held in the State Department's spacious new auditorium. Officials announced 418 newsmen attended. The record attendance for Eisenhower news conferences was 311.

The meeting—first formal presidential news conference held at night — was broadcast live by all major American TV and radio networks, by the British Broadcasting Corp., to Britain, and the U.S. Information Agency recorded it and beamed it abroad later at peak listening hours in various areas around the globe.

Ship

rates, enlisted the aid of the United States, Britain and other NATO allies in the hunt after the cruise ship was taken over in the Caribbean early Sunday morning by an armed band who sneaked aboard in Venezuela and Curacao disguised as passengers.

But the United States, though sending warships and planes to keep watch on the ship, backed away from earlier statements by naval spokesmen that the Santa Maria would be boarded and taken in U.S. charge and her captors treated as pirates.

President Kennedy told a Washington news conference Wednesday night that the U.S. Navy "has not been given instructions to conduct boarding operations," but only to accompany the liner.

"There are Americans involved and their lives are involved," he said, adding that the United States was also concerned because the Santa Maria belonged to a friendly nation.

Cmdr. Charles Rainey, spokesman at the Navy search headquarters in San Juan, said the Navy's "Prime consideration now is the safety and welfare of the crew and passengers." As to future action, search officials would only say that they awaited orders from a higher level. The idea appeared to be to get a Navy surface ship in range of the liner, then get orders from Washington depending on the situation.

After Krauss, flying a P2V Neptune, located the Santa Maria, the Navy made arrangements to keep the fugitive ship under constant surveillance. A Brazil-based, long range Constellation was sent out with orders to "track and report position" of the liner.

The U.S. destroyers Damato and Wilson and the British frigate Rothesay were sidelined for refueling after fruitlessly chasing the Santa Maria through the Caribbean.

But two U.S. destroyers on a goodwill tour of West African ports—the Vogelgesang and Gearing—were ordered out to intercept the runaway and tail her.

A report from Trinidad said the high-speed nuclear submarine Seawolf and the fleet tanker Canisteo also had been ordered to overtake the Santa Maria.

Defenses were alerted in Portugal's Cape Verde Islands, off the African coast, and in Angola by Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, the dictator Galvao and his men have declared "war" on it. It was obvious they feared the rebel band would try to spark a rebellion in the territories, where unrest has been rumored periodically.

The frigate Pedro Escobar armed with 3 inch guns, set out hurriedly from Lisbon "on a special mission" after the runaway liner was finally sighted.

Reports circulated in Lisbon that two of the crewmen of the Santa Maria were in league with the rebels. Salazar's secret police Wednesday questioned officials of the Colonial Navigation Company, owners of the liner.

The Vera Cruz, a sister ship of the Santa Maria owned by the same line, Wednesday night delayed its sailing from Rio de Janeiro. Capt. Ambrose Pereira Ramalho said the refrigeration system broke down and denied the delay had anything to do with the seizure of the Santa Maria.

The rebels' titular leader, Gen. Humberto Delgado, told Associated Press Correspondent William L. Ryan his Movement for National Independence hopes the seizure of the Santa Maria will touch off a chain reaction against Salazar.

Delgado, an exile in Brazil since he ran unsuccessfully for the Portuguese presidency in 1958, was interviewed in Sao Paulo. Asked if he thought the takeover justified risking the lives of the 600 passengers and 370 crew on the cruise ship, Delgado replied:

"We cannot be governed by feelings of emotion. During the World War planes killed thousands of people at a time. War is war. It's war on Portuguese territory. The ship is ours and it is purely Portuguese business."

Delgado said his movement was not a political party, that it stands only for overthrow of Salazar, dictator of Portugal for 33 years, and for elections as soon as possible after that.

Unity Woman Elected President of GOP Unit

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Lester Dornon of Unity was elected and installed as president of the Republican Women's Club at a dinner meeting Wednesday night. She succeeds Mrs. Robert Smith.

Others named and installed were Mrs. Ruth Garrigues and Mrs. J. E. Bauknecht, vice presidents. Guest speaker was Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, state committee woman. About 38 attended.

Unbalanced Budget Explained

Balanced Budget Promised By Ohio's Finance Chief

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Controlling Republicans in the Ohio legislature got a scholarly explanation Wednesday night of the Democratic governor's unbalanced budget—and a promise that it would be balanced, on request.

The explanation and the promise came from Finance Director James H. Maloon. He testified for almost two hours in an extraordinary joint session of the Senate and House finance committees inquiring into DiSalle's submission of a budget out of balance to the tune of $75 million.

Whether Republicans now will be willing to introduce DiSalle's $2.1 billion appropriation bill has not yet been decided, but they apparently are satisfied that Maloon's estimates of the state's income in the two-year period beginning next July 1 are as accurate as humanly possible this far in advance.

If Republicans don't decide quickly, however, to introduce Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's big money bill, the Democrats likely will introduce the bill themselves.

The major money bill of the session has been in the hands of House Finance Committee Chairman Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, for a week. Normally, he would be the one to introduce the bill because he is finance chairman. But he has balked at introducing it because Republican leaders feel DiSalle has not fulfilled the legal requirement of presenting to the legislature a complete financial plan for the next two years.

The GOP attitude is based, primarily, on DiSalle's budget message statement that he did not intend to suggest any new taxes to meet his increased spending proposals.

Maloon's promise that he would offer amendments to cut the DiSalle budget down to anticipated revenues came under questioning by House Speaker Roger Cloud. Maloon indicated he had not planned to offer the budget-slashing amendments unless requested to do so by the GOP leaders.

The finance director also indicated he could give majority Republicans an informal list of proposed capital improvements needed during the next two years very quickly. He estimates needed state buildings for the next biennium at $75 million. That amount, in addition to the present appropriations bill imbalance of $75 million, would throw the financial picture just about an even $150 million out of balance.

Democratic Rep. G. D. Tablack of Youngstown, House Finance Committee chairman two years ago, asserted that the income and spending figures for the next two years indicate there will be no state building at all unless the Republicans provide more revenue through taxes.

The financial battle took the center of the legislative stage, but the lawmakers attended to a few other matters. The Senate adopted its rules for the session without an expected battle from minority Democrats. And Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Allen, was defeated again in his battle to limit the number of copies of the Ohio Revised Code purchased for senators. Pepple first raised the point in the 1951 session.

Aside from that, legislators offered proposals to:

Extend unemployment benefits beyond the present 26-week limit. A number of similar proposals already are under consideration.

Authorize the Wildlife Council to regulate commercial fishing in the Lake Erie district.

Equalize fees at branches with those of parent state universities.

Repeal the constitutional authority of the governor to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons.

Provide for election of national convention delegates by states rather than require voters to cast their ballots for individuals.

Require photographs on driver licenses.

Request the Legislative Service Commission to study the feasibility of a tax abatement program to assist in urban renewal and blight-prevention programs.

Provide for a second common pleas judge in Clermont County.

Amend constitution to bar imbeciles, incompetents and feebleminded from voting.

District Senator And Others Seek Jobless Pay Extension

By Review Correspondent
COLUMBUS — State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of the 20th-22nd District joined with five other Democrats Wednesday afternoon in introducing two bills to provide both emergency and permanent extensions of the jobless pay period to 39 weeks.

The bill to extend the payments from the present 26 weeks immediately is the same measure that was defeated during the special legislative in November, a spokesman said.

The bill was introduced again because the need for quick action continues to grow, he explained. The other measure to provide a permanent extension of 13 weeks is designed to serve as a basis for a longer, more thorough study of the unemployment compensation program.

Republican leadership has been accused by spokesmen for the AFL-CIO of stalling action on the jobless pay issue. But the GOP leaders have said they want to take a good look at the whole program and its financing before rushing into hasty action.

A flood of bills on various aspects of the program have been offered in the House, but the bills offered by Sargus and his group are the first in the Senate.

Sargus also introduced a bill to clarify the present law on bigamy. A loophole in the statute now permits a man or woman to marry a second mate in another state and live with the new spouse in Ohio without being guilty of bigamy, Sargus said. His bill would eliminate the legal oversight, he said.

Kit Carson Left His Calling Card On Rock

WETMORE, Colo. (AP) — Residents of this south-central Colorado community are convinced that Kit Carson, frontier scout, left his calling card at Hard-scrabble Creek near Wetmore.

The letters "Kit C." are carved on a large rock that jutted from the stream. Several years ago someone broke off the section of the rock that bore that inscription and carried it away.

But it apparently was too large to hide safely, and the stone was found where it had been thrown in a weed patch beside a road. Now it is set in cement and protected by iron bars at a picnic ground near the creek.

Young Scientist Hopes Medical Theory Works

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Blue-eyed Judy Vary is hoping her 99 white movie will provide mankind with a cure for cancer.

Judy is only a high school senior but she's been working on her project for a year and a half. She has a theory that cancer can be treated with radiation if anti-radioactive agents are injected under the diseased areas. This would protect the surrounding healthy tissues from harmful radiation.

She'll test the theory after she finishes the long process of developing cancer in some of the mice.

Police Unit Nets $111

SALINEVILLE — A profit of about $111 was made by the newly-organized auxiliary police from a public dinner held Tuesday night at the high school, Police Chief Cleo Mellott announced today. The police unit will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Village Hall for committee appointments.

Bulb Protector

CORN, Okla. (AP) — Park caretaker Emil Hinz has found how to keep light bulbs from being shot out. He took them down. Anyone wanting lights for night picnics or programs in the park must go see Emil and get some bulbs.

Tell Us What We Need To Know

President Kennedy will speak to Congress Monday on the state of the Union, as he sees it. It will not be as reassuring as former President Eisenhower's message.

The Kennedy administration is beginning. The Eisenhower administration was ending when its chief spokesman made his appraisal of the state of the Union.

In the beginning, every administration is committed to make changes; that is the two-party system of government. The "ins" are voted out and the "outs" are voted in because voters had grown dissatisfied. That's the two-party system of politics.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is sensitive to politics. He is sensitive to the practicalities of the two-party system. He understands the significance of his narrow margin of victory. Voters were not strongly dissatisfied with the "ins" last Nov. 8. They were ready to change administrations; that had been prescribed by law. But as between the program offered by Mr. Kennedy and the Democrats and the program offered by Richard Nixon and the Republicans they saw no material difference.

They gave the Kennedy-Johnson ticket no mandate to sweep Washington with a new broom. The outcome of the election was a standoff. The voting was so close that in practical politics it amounted to a tie.

This is the problem the new President must deal with as he begins to exert his influence over public opinion and Congress. He must build the popular backing he will need to put a program into motion, and he must build it with the confidence of many Americans who did not vote for him last November. Otherwise, he would be asking the impossible of representatives and senators, who are as politically sensitive as he is.

It goes without saying that he has the benefit of great good feeling at the outset of his duties. He has inspired this with his conduct and his choice of a Cabinet whose members command strong public confidence.

If he finds the right ideas and the right words to turn this good will to his political account, he can make the country forget the closeness of the election. The only error he could make would be to ignore the fact he was given a mandate for moderation, especially in the matter of public spending.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY would belie all the confidence placed in him as the winner of last November's close vote if he shocked his countrymen and Congress with a wild spending program.

If he tells us what we need to know next Monday. He will retain the confidence we must continue to have in him if the country is to come out of the recession without burning down the U.S. Treasury to make jobs for the unemployed.

Deserved Honors

Community service was recognized again Wednesday when the Junior Chamber of Commerce presented Civic Service and Distinguished service awards during its annual "Bosses Night."

Honored for leadership and worthy contributions to the community were Judge Louis Tobin and William A. Black.

Judge Tobin's activities over the years on behalf of deserving projects are almost too numerous to list. And Mr. Black, since coming to East Liverpool, has been ever ready to devote both time and energy to civic enterprises.

Wednesday night's selections were deserving ones.

Everything But Human Nature

Another effort will be made to ditch prepaid sales tax stamps in Ohio this year, and it isn't too good a bet that this controversial point in Gov. DiSalle's program will be licked again.

Last year, all the steps were pulled to make the strongest case possible for retaining the prepaid stamps. It was pointed out that the merchants who acted as the state's collectors liked the stamps and should have them if they wanted them. It was argued that the prepaid stamps were the only way ever devised to make sure the state collected what it had coming; that whatever the stamps cost in and of themselves was more than recovered by what they produced in the way of revenue that otherwise might be lost.

Ohio Retail Merchants Assn., which was pushing the stamp system hard, as it always had pushed it, put on a whirlwind campaign throughout the state and in the General Assembly. The net effect of so much effort, so well organized and so thoroughly executed, was to preserve the prepaid sales tax stamp system in Ohio. No one really cared much one way or the other, because the system was familiar, it had worked well and there simply would be more of the same.

But now there is going to be a new try to ditch the system, despite the fact there now is a Republican majority in the Legislature and this is a Democratic bill. It just might pick up enough votes to squeak through for the sake of the $11 million a year it possibly could save the state.

The fact is that Ohioans never have tried to make their prepaid tax stamp system work the way it was intended to work. They have scuttled its intent by failing to ask for the receipts that prove the merchant-collector has paid to the state in advance what he thereupon collects from his customers, retaining a discount for his trouble. The effect of this negligence has been to shift to accountants the burden of proof that Caesar has been getting what was owed to Caesar.

One day it will be impossible for the defenders of the prepaid stamp system to find a leg to stand on because Ohioans, themselves, will have let a good system be destroyed by their own default. Everything about it was good, except its reliance on human nature to make it work the way it was supposed to work.

Don't Forget Birds

At the request of several readers, an SOS was sounded a week or so ago on behalf of the birds who were having a rough time finding food amid the snow and ice.

Since then things have gotten worse instead of better for our feathered friends and more calls have pointed out the need of doing everything possible to provide food.

Crusts of bread placed on boards, in pans or other containers free of snow and ice will go a long way toward helping the birds in their battle for survival until warmer days arrive.

Mister Teekay Of The White House

The first dividend from 3-year-old Caroline Kennedy's forthcoming presence in the White House is Tom Kitten, alley cat of no distinction, gray with yellow eyes. It is reported on reliable authority (no less than Press Secretary Salinger) that Mister Teekay will be a White House fixture.

That is to say, he will be sponsored by the little mistress of the mansion, Caroline. Because there is bound to be some touchiness about Caroline's status, especially when newspapers want to write stories about this delightful child, Mister Teekay may be useful as a point of reference.

It isn't just every administration that we have kittens in the White House. Caroline Kennedy and her new little brother have added something rare and wonderful to the executive mansion all of us provide for our First Family.

We want there to be kittens and little girls and little brothers and a dog romping on the lawn. We'd like to think there might be a little girl pushing prams on the long walks and a little boy playing with a turtle, or perhaps bouncing a ball against a wall.

The Once Over

John Q. Citizen, who can always be depended on to criticize any and all administrations if in the mood, is a warm rooster for President Kennedy. But he is divesting himself of all holdings that would involve him in a conflict of interests, just in case.

"I have sold the two shares I have in a paper company and one share in a pen corporation so nobody can ever say I write letters to the editor just to boost paper and pen sales," he said today.

"I am putting in trust three shares in a tomahawk corporation so if I use such things on anybody in Washington there will be no conflict of interest.

"The half share I hold in a brickyard I am turning over to a cousin so if I should happen to toss a few bricks at any cabinet officer I will feel it ethical."

A committee examining him asked: "What about your reported holdings in a big tomato farm?" "I am not a tomato thrower at either the Democrats or Republicans and I resent the question," was his firm reply.

Q. Have you any stock in a telegraph corporation?

A. No sir. When I send wires to Washington demanding action on something I don't want it said I am knocking the United States while helping a telegraph company.

Q. Any drug company interests?

A. I had one share but gave it to my little boy. If I get all out of shape criticizing the government I want to buy whatever pills I need without a conflict of interest.

Q. Have you anything else to confess?

A. Yes. I gave away my membership in a political club on account of it I get full of beer and clambakes and sound off on how to run the country, it will be as a neutral.

Q. Have you any railroad stocks?

A. I have an unpunched ticket on the New Haven Railroad which I dispose of so it will not influence me in my attitude toward any Democratic action in a transportation crisis.

Gentlemen, Let's Get Started!

Labor 'Councils' Fight Automation

By Victor Riesel

No greater courage has any man than he who aspires to be president of the United States, yet writes his own speeches. Blend such courage with anger and you have Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on the blizzard night of Jan. 19 as he turned to guests at an unreported dinner in the Waldorf.

Around him were leaders of industry and labor and some of his own cabinet. The guests, aware that they would be marooned by ice-bound aircraft and strike-bound trains and vessels, heard him speak from his own penciled notes.

Referring to the "sailors' strike which paralyzed most of the Eastern rail system, he asserted:

"What is happening here (in this strike) is an abuse of freedom..."

"Such a stoppage," he said, "must not occur again and again." He would fight them. Most of the audience cheered. Only the labor men didn't.

The governor apologized for leaving the banquet (a building trades dinner) early. At 9:30 p.m. he was due at a strike "peace" conference.

At 4 a.m. he was still talking peace with sailors, teamsters and railroaders to settle a walkout which was costing more than $20 million a day. The strike leaders, of course, settled only at the request of their friend, Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg.

THE SIGNIFICANCE of this first strike of the John Kennedy administration, went little noticed across the country. There was much more than a walkout led by the Seafarers International Union to save the jobs of 63 men aboard railroad-owned harbor tugs.

This strike was called by seafarers' chief, Paul Hall, a broad, blondish, big man who is a scientist in the use of "joint action."

Insiders say of him that "when Paul goes, he goes all the way." Note well this joint action. It is the theme of things to come on the labor front.

Long before the venturesome Paul Hall struck a few tugs in New York harbor he created something called the Maritime Port Council of Greater New York Harbor and vicinity.

Soon there will be 40 powerful unions in it. Already signed up are sailors, oilers, marine engineers, longshoremen, teamsters, carpenters, boilermakers, office workers, city employees and operating engineers.

Soon the operating trainmen brotherhoods will join. They are the men who can shut down rail transportation across the United States. There is significance, too, in the location of the Maritime Port Council headquarters in the offices of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union in lower Manhattan.

This ties in the civil service workers who push the papers across desks.

THIS PUSHING, in turn, makes possible the movement and clearing of ships, tugs, lighters and the operation of docks.

Council President Anthony Scott is a colleague of Tony Anastasio, leader of some 17,000 Brooklyn waterfront workers. Fraternal delegates to the council are two teamsters officials, Tom Hickey and Johnny Strong, referred to by the McClellan Committee as honest teamsters.

Thus, one group of leaders have the power to summon a council session and jointly call a strike. Such a call can throw the brakes on all turning wheels, afloat, over the road, on the streets and on the rails.

This is "job action" all the way. This is what happened when the 660 tug boat workers struck last week and decided to picket rail yards clear through to Chicago and St. Louis, if necessary, to win a "beef" in New York harbor.

PAUL HALL and his colleagues have other joint councils of which the nation will hear shortly. There is, for example, the National Committee for Maritime Bargaining. In this group, there have joined together, eight major maritime unions.

They have more than 70,000 seamen and ship's officers. They have agreed on "a unified national approach" to bargaining with shippers whose crafts ply the oceans, the rivers and the Great Lakes. They cover 90 per cent of U.S. shipping.

There is no doubt the national committee can call on the New York Port Council — or any such joint action juggernauts.

Nor are such joint councils sprouting only on our docks. They are springing up across the country, in industry after industry.

This is the most militant job action there is. This time it gave Nelson Rockefeller sleepless nights. Automation is moving in tighter and tighter.

Unions are drawing closer and closer in an effort to slow the transition from an economy of workers in overalls to an economy of service men and engineers and clerks in white collars.

Soon national "job action" will force the lights to blaze all night in the White House.

Capacity And Production

By Raymond Moley

During the 1960 campaign for the presidency, much was made of the fact that the steel industry was operating at one half its capacity.

The implication was that this meant a depressed economy, unemployment, and general distress. But there is no more reason to draw such inferences from capacity figures than there is to blame the government for building so many ships for war that in peacetime some of them are put in mothballs. The extra capacity of the steel industry is a reserve to be used in a war or other crisis.

To use that capacity up to, say, 80 or 85 per cent would be economically indefensible. When such a high point of production is reached, extra shifts are required, much overtime is necessary and the normal or routine maintenance of the furnaces becomes extremely costly.

THE CHANGING technology of the steel industry has resulted, at the beginning of this year, in a change in the reporting of production.

Under the old method of reporting, the comparison was with the years 1947-1949. The reports used in political speeches in the campaign were based on that comparison.

Now the production index for comparison will be the years 1957-1959.

There are sound and wholly non-political reasons for this change. As the years passed between 1947-1949 and the present, there were great advances in technology. Thus, the comparative figures came to be more and more inaccurate.

The actual production capacity now cannot be accurately computed by any authority. There are many kinds of furnaces and equipment and new methods of production, particularly in the use of oxygen.

There has also been a considerable investment in plants to keep up with new methods of production. The old figures included many outdated plants which have been passed into obsolescence.

There are steelworkers who are unemployed. But in the greatest steel manufacturing center in the world — the Chicago-Gary complex — the figures now show that over-all employment is up and unemployment is down.

Later this year the Chicago-Gary area will increase production from 50 per cent to 60 per cent. This 10 per cent increase will absorb every out-of-work steel man.

EVEN AT 50 PER CENT of capacity, production in that area in 1960 was greater than in 1958 and 1959, when the mills were running closer to capacity.

What is important in measuring activity in the steel industry is total tons produced, not the percentage of capacity utilized. With new technology, the industry's ability to produce more steel with less utilization of capacity becomes more and more pronounced.

That is something which should be kept in mind in all measurements of industrial production.

Progress lies in producing more with less effort. Progress cannot be attained by some government device to use all the capacity of production all the time.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Fire believed to have been started by an explosion of gas or alcohol destroyed the office of the Wellsville Motor Co., with loss estimated at $8,000.

A request that the city of East Liverpool provide a fund of $10,000 to meet applications for fuel and pay the bills of charity patients at City Hospital was filed during a council meeting by committees representing the Community Welfare Association, City Hospital and Liverpool township Board of Trustees.

Frank Bennett was installed as president of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian Church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Heavy mounds of snow which overhung from several business district roofs were removed by firemen to protect pedestrians.

The 60th anniversary of the Christian Endeavor movement was observed in two East Liverpool churches.

James Welch of Riley Ave. filed a declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for Second Ward councilman.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Lions Club spent $605 in the last six months of 1950 aiding the near-sightless and blind.

The worst ice storm in years paralyzed the tri-state district.

A. C. West was named to head the annual fund campaign of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter.

Conflict Of Interest

By David Lawrence

Study Also Needed In Congressional Area

President Kennedy has set up a special commission to study conflict of interest in the executive agencies of the government. This is a commendable action.

But the real weakness in government is not being touched and apparently cannot be under the instructions given the new commission. Why, for David Lawrence instance, should such a study be limited to what happens in the executive agencies and not cover what is the true source of the difficulty—the indifference to conflict of interest which prevails also among the members of Congress?

Basically, the problem of conflict of interest concerns improper influences exerted in government upon all officials, from the president down, who have the power to make decisions that benefit or injure a citizen or groups of individuals in business.

No law now on the statute books can really prevent a conflict of interest from being applied by an official of the government.

Though the latter may have divested himself of his ownership of stocks in a private company, he cannot as readily divest himself of his friendships either inside or outside the business or labor union or law firm in which he once worked.

The fear of wrongdoing which is implied in the requirement that Cabinet officers sell their stocks is not removed by such a procedure. There is no way by which a Cabinet officer can be required to compel his relatives to sell stock in companies which could be benefited by governmental action—as, for instance, in defense contracts.

The assumption behind the conflict of interest laws and regulations is that no official can be trusted to be governed by his conscience but must be deprived of his stock holdings—even at a loss—so as to satisfy popular suspicion or fear that he may not be able to resist temptation.

This gets into the matter of conscience and fundamental honesty. Maybe a panel of churchmen is needed to define the limitations that might be self-imposed or at least exhibited to public view as affecting the kind of government that can be expected under our present system of party politics.

Isn't it a conflict of interest when a man is elected to high office and gives an appointment to public office as a reward for services rendered?

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: We are continuing to wait out the winter. There's nothing else to do. I went out today to inspect conditions and found them more than I could bear, even with all my cold-weather gear in place. I can't even get into the right mood to look at seed and nursery catalogues.

There is no danger of cabin fever, however, as long as I have something to keep my mind occupied. My gratitude goes to Mrs. Kennedy in this regard. I am referring to the young Mrs. Kennedy, the one who has come to live in our White House.

She makes me think of the experience I went through with your handsome young wife when you showed up with her on your arm. I couldn't get used to the idea that she had moved in on us, in a manner of speaking. If you had brought her home to live here, the way some young husbands do with their young wives, there would have been a problem.

As it was, the problem was all inside my head. It was in your Aunt Effie's head, too, though I can testify she never said anything to me about it. But speaking for myself, I admit that girl took a lot of getting used to.

The trouble was, she was not what you would call the old-shoe type. No sir. She was all new shoes and glitter. For a long time, she made me wonder if I shouldn't go upstairs and shave, or maybe put goose grease on my hair. But gradually I made a great discovery.

It really wasn't her fault she was from another part of the country and had been used to doing things in ways that seemed strange to me. All that counted was how she felt about things we shared in common. I quit looking for differences and started to look for likenesses. There was no trouble after that.

It took me about a year to get the hang of your missus, and I suppose it took as long for her to feel comfortable when that oddball uncle of yours was on the premises. With Aunt Effie, of course, there was no problem. Everybody likes that old gal — always has. Even baby turkeys, as harum-scarum as anything alive, used to simmer down when she'd go into the brooder house, when we took that flyer in the turkey business. She's a walking tranquilizer, that one.

So here I am, one of Mrs. Kennedy's countrymen, looking for likenesses, and it won't be easy. She belongs in another era. She's from another part of the forest.

ered in the campaign? Isn't this a conflict between the public interest and the private interest?

ANY ARMY of persons who served in the last campaign have already asked or will be seeking rewards for services rendered. This has sometimes been called patronage, and it is regrettable that somehow there has developed in Washington a rationalized attitude that "politics is politics."

In this, at least, there is no reluctance but eagerness to turn the clock back and to frown upon change. It was during the administration of President Andrew Jackson when the slogan was proclaimed that "to the victor belong the spoils."

Already, for several important appointments announced by the Kennedy administration, the newspapers have told of the background of some of the appointees—early friendships or political service.

This is not offset by the fact that some appointments have been made for merit and in disregard of politics. The hard truth is that there exists a feeling that the President may appoint on the basis of political service to him and not necessarily on the basis of finding the person best qualified.

Such a conflict of interest is not confined to the presidency. It exists in Congress, where the members feel that they must fulfill what are often called political obligations.

A constituent who has contributed money to a campaign asks a favor. Sometimes it is a legitimate request—that the member of Congress intercede to secure justice for the citizen.

SOMETIMES it is implied that he must receive a special favor. This is what happens much of the time when executive agencies are approached by members of Congress.

So, since there is to be a study of conflict of interest, it would be well if the ethics of everybody in all branches of government were re-defined and through the power of publicity, if not by law, the people were given some standards by which to judge whether the interests of the whole nation are being safeguarded or only the interests of those who buy their way into public office through campaign contributions or campaign service.

These persons would not really be appointed were it not for the unfortunate acquiescence of our elected officials—and of large segments of the public—in what is euphemistically called political obligations.

This, in reality, is the conflict of interest issue that calls for diagnosis and cure.

Around here we've never had anything like her, not even among the well-to-do.

I don't say we haven't had young women as handsome as she is, leastwise they looked as handsome to me. I mean we haven't had young ladies with glamorous backgrounds and special educational advantages. And then — let's admit it — we never have had in all our born days a President's wife around here.

I am going to try to bridge the chasm of the years and understand what this young woman is up against. It's an odd thing; I don't worry as much about her husband as I worry about her — that big house and all those sharp-beaked women in Washington waiting for a chance to peck her to death if she doesn't meet their specifications.

But it's partly my house, you know. I own a doorknob in the living quarters — third one down the hall from the top of the front stairs. Therefore, I have something to say about what goes on in it, and I don't want anyone to pick on that young woman — or peck on her either.

Your aunt says I am showing my dotage, but I think I am showing my devotion to all the young women who ever were put into circumstances that would have made Joan of Arc, herself, want to call quits. Don't you believe your aunt if she tries to tell you there's anything wrong with me. I'm sound as a nut. Some kinda nut. That's me, cabin fever and all. Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE

In Office Only 6 Days

Manner And Appearance Of Kennedy Are Changed

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has been in office only six days but the crushing problems and mighty responsibilities of it already have stamped him in manner and appearance.

He was a deeply serious man Wednesday in his first presidential news conference. He listened intently, with total concentration, to the questions. Sometimes, he looked a little wary. Once or twice, a slight frown notched his forehead between his eyes. He spoke more slowly than usual, carefully choosing his words. He smiled only once—whereas, before, a certain jaunty and sparkling humor invariably appeared when he met the correspondents.

This first news conference also was history's first live-televized presidential question and answer session. (President Eisenhower held one in San Francisco prior to the 1956 Republican convention, but it was about politics, not the problems of government.)

This fact, however, probably did not account for the deeply thoughtful, almost preoccupied air that Kennedy wore.

He had appeared on TV many times, as a senator and a candidate, and deftly fielded questions from reporters. The camera never appeared to awe him.

Nor did he give any sign that he was conscious of a vast TV audience watching him and the radio audience listening to the broadcast from the auditorium in the State Department.

He looked, if anything, even more solemn during the 36½ minutes of the conference than he looked last Friday noon when he took the oath of office.

Kennedy appeared only once to have missed part of a question. He quickly demonstrated three qualities.

First, a dramatic sense of timing. He opened the conference with some announcements. He put the biggest news first, the news that the Soviet Union had released two American flyers who were shot down in the RB-47 plane and imprisoned since last July 1. A gasp ran around the room.

Second, the unmistakable ring of authority. It rang in his voice especially when he said, "I have ordered that they (the U-2 reconnaissance plane flights over the Soviet Union) not be resumed." And it came again, firmly, when he commented on his first executive order to send more food to depressed areas.

Third, the quick, nimble mind. Usually, while a reporter was still stating his question, Kennedy began nodding slightly. He grasped the intent of a question and had his answer ready immediately. He seldom had to reach for a word.

Snow

All roads in the northern half of Georgia were ordered closed by state police because of the hazardous driving conditions. Schools in much of the Georgia storm belt, including those in Atlanta, were closed. Traffic also was halted on many roads in northern Alabama.

The ice storms, which broke out in Texas earlier this week, were blamed for at least eight deaths, including seven in Texas and one in Georgia.

North of the ice belt, snow and snow flurries fell in the central and Upper Mississippi Valley, the Upper Great Lakes region, the central and northern Plains, the eastern Great Lakes and the northern Rockies. Light snow and freezing drizzle was reported in eastern Washington and Oregon.

Meanwhile, not much relief was expected immediately from the bitter cold in the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The Weather Bureau forecast colder weather in the Upper Mississippi Valley and parts of the northern and west central Plains. Areas hit by temperatures of more than 30 degrees below this week.

Some more snow was indicated in parts of Texas and the eastern Gulf as well as in the lower and eastern Upper Great Lakes.

But the cold air this morning again dipped deep into the South, with the 30s and lower reported in the Rio Grande Valley, along the Gulf Coast to western Florida and southern Georgia and along the Carolina coast. Warmest weather was in southern Florida, with 70 reported in Miami and Key West.

125 At Dairy Institute; Princess Contest Set

LISBON — About 125 attended the annual Columbiana-Mahoning Dairy Institute held Wednesday at the Masonic Temple in Salem.

Harold Birkhold of near Salem, area supervisor of the Central Ohio Breeders Association, gave his yearly report and Tony Edgerton, Eastern District technician, gave an illustrated report on his breeding experiences in Mexico.

Carey Houlette of Columbiana R. D., explained the Dairy Princess contest sponsored by the Ohio Dairy Association and urged members to sponsor candidates.

The institute is sponsored by the Columbiana-Mahoning dairy committee in co-operation with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Water Notices Delayed To Chester Customers

Preparation of notices to delinquent water customers in Chester has not yet been completed, the municipal water department office reported today.

The notices were to have been mailed this week, but the preparation of regular water bills and other work delayed checking delinquent accounts. A report is expected at a meeting of Council Wednesday.

Bottleneck Threatens Program

Kennedy Says He Wants Larger House Rules Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, speaking as an "interested citizen," wants the House to enlarge its Rules Committee to break a bottleneck threatening his program.

The President told a dramatic news conference Wednesday night — his first — that he wouldn't for the world interfere in the constitutional process by which both houses of Congress fix their own rules.

"But it is no secret," he said, "that I would strongly believe that the members of the House should have an opportunity to vote themselves on the programs we will present."

Kennedy's statement was made in the framework of surprise action by House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex. Rayburn postponed until next Tuesday a showdown vote previously scheduled for today on a proposal to cut Southern Democratic-Republican coalition power to pigeonhole in the committee domestic legislation of the kind Kennedy wants.

Rayburn backs a move to add two Democrats and a Republican to the committee and thus provide a majority to send the Kennedy program to a House vote.

Angered Republicans, not notified in advance of the postponement, charged that some Kennedy Cabinet officers were being enlisted to solicit votes for the enlargement plan.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, told reporters Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, a former House member, had telephoned some Republicans urging them to support the Rayburn move.

Ohio Congressman Writes About First Lady

WASHINGTON (AP) — A freshman Republican congressman from Ohio, Rep. Charles A. Moshier, today called President Kennedy's wife, Jacqueline, a "gorgeously attractive girl."

"And I do not agree with those who say Mrs. Kennedy's eyes are too far apart or her mouth too big," Moshier wrote in a column for his own weekly, the Oberlin (Ohio) News-Tribune.

Recipes that call for sherry usually have been tested with the dry or medium tannet wine. Some dessert recipes benefit from the use of sweet sherry.

Mysterious Crash Damages Car In Dive Onto Tracks

An East End man's auto was damaged in a mysterious mishap at 1:32 this morning when it went over a wall onto the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks near the Mulberry St. crossing, police reported.

The 1952 sedan is registered in the name of Hank Duncan, 1235 St. George St., but police did not list the driver's name.

The watchman at the Mulberry St. crossing told police the auto was moving south on Maple St. and failed to make a turn onto Railroad St., causing it to go over a retaining wall onto the railroad tracks. The auto came to a halt on its right side.

Police ordered the car towed away by a wrecker. Duncan's family expressed surprise today on being advised of the mishap and said it knew nothing of the incident. Duncan was not driving his car last night and it may have been stolen, the family said.

Meanwhile, a belated report was filed with police on a mishap Tuesday at Anderson Blvd. and Park Way that involved cars driven by Richard Kerin, 33, of 108 E. 5th St. and R. A. Weinhardt, Elysian Way.

Harvard Professor Appointed By Kennedy As Special Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Wednesday appointed Arthur Schlesinger Jr., Harvard University professor and historian of the New Deal, as a full-time special assistant.

Schlesinger was an adviser to Adlai E. Stevenson in his 1952 and 1956 presidential campaigns. He filled the same role for Kennedy in last fall's primary and presidential campaigns.

He will do a variety of White House jobs for Kennedy, press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen in announcing the naming of Schlesinger.

Salinger also announced the following further selections of officials in the new administration:

Frank M. Coffin, former Democratic representative from Maine to be director of the Development Loan Fund, in the State Department.

James Harlan Cleveland of Syracuse, N. Y., to be assistant secretary of state for international organizations affairs.

George C. McGhee of Dallas, Tex., former ambassador to Turkey, and former assistant secretary of state, to be assistant secretary of state for policy planning.

William J. Crockett, now deputy assistant secretary of state for budget and finance, to be assistant secretary for administration.

Conrad L. Wirth, to continue as director of the National Park Service.

Carl T. Rowan, reporter for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune and former correspondent of the Baltimore Afro-American, to be deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

Carmine Bellino, certified public accountant who served as chief accountant to the Senate racketeering investigating committee, to be special consultant to the President and to the budget director.

The White House said the State Department designations were made after consultation with Secretary of State Dean Rusk; that the reappointment of Wirth follows consultation with Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, and that Rusk will make the Rowan appointment with the concurrence of President Kennedy.

Appeal Slated In Conviction Of Bank Theft

CLEVELAND (AP)—An attorney for Thomas E. Georgalas says he plans to appeal Georgalas' conviction on a charge of robbing a Youngstown bank of $18,378.

Georgalas, 26, of Warren, was convicted Wednesday in U.S. District Court of being one of two men who held up the Cornersburg branch of the Mahoning National Bank last July 11.

The attorney, Thomas P. Wellman, contended Georgalas had provided an alibi when his wife, Peggy, testified that Georgalas was home at the time of the robbery. He said also prosecution witnesses gave conflicting testimony on whether the holdup men wore dark sunglasses.

Frank D. Anzur, 34, of Youngstown, indicted with Georgalas, had pleaded guilty previously and testified against Georgalas.

The jury of six men and six women took two hours and 17 minutes to arrive at a verdict.

Georgalas, remanded to county jail to await sentence, faces a possible maximum penalty of 25 years in a federal prison.

In summing up the government's testimony Wednesday, William J. O'Neill, assistant U.S. attorney, said Georgalas had been identified by two bank employees and three customers as being one of the two bank robbers. Anzur was identified as the man who went behind the tellers' cages and had the loot put into a paper shopping bag while Georgalas stood guard in the bank lobby.

Program On Wool Closes March 31

Wool growers in Columbiana, Hancock and Beaver Counties were reminded by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee that the 1960-program payments to be made this summer will be only on wool and unshorn lambs marketed before March 31, 1961. That is the closing date for the 1960 program.

Applications for such payments must be filed before the end of April.

Adequate records on the sales must support the information. For instance, producers' sales records for shorn wool should show name and address of buyer, date of sale, name and address of producer, net weight of wool sold, and net proceeds to producer after normal marketing deductions.

Payments to producers for the 1960 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the 1959 year. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage — to be announced later this year — will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool during the marketing year up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

AEC Says 'No Danger' After Nuclear Mishap

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission reported no danger existed today after a brief, accidental nuclear chain reaction occurred Wednesday at its Reactor Testing Station west of here.

All employees were evacuated but returned a few hours later.

At the testing station Jan. 3 a nuclear reactor ran away. There was an explosion which killed three men.

Wednesday's reaction did not involve a reactor.

Ohio Commerce Chief Slated For ICC Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's director of commerce, John W. Bush, is expected to be nominated today by President Kennedy to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

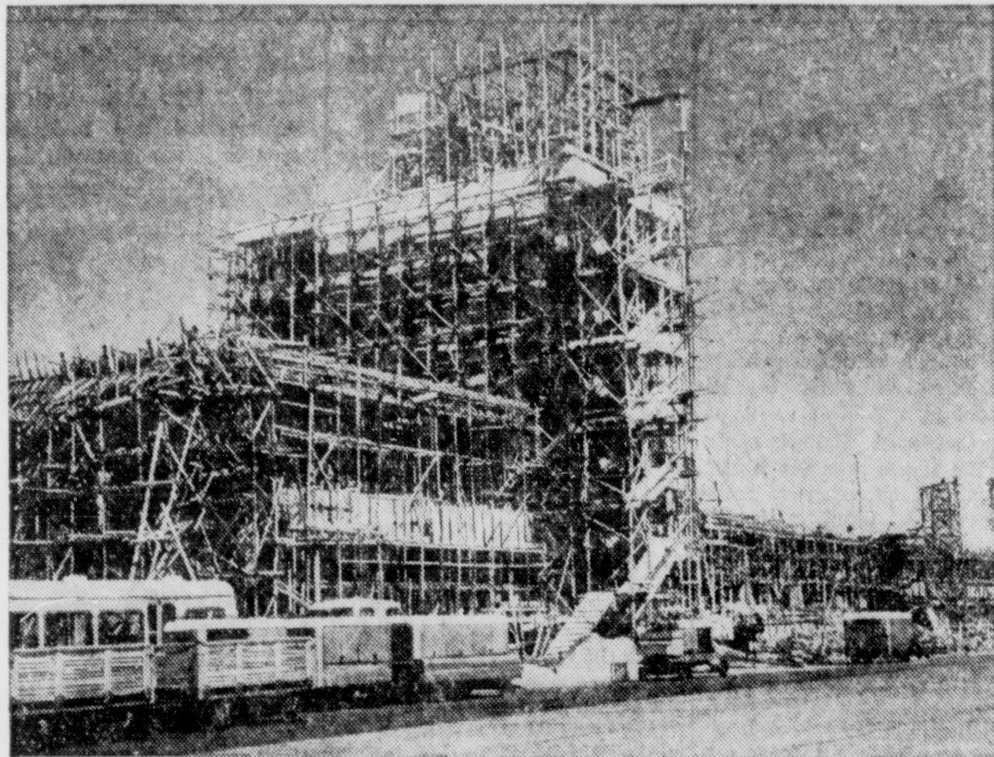

The announcement was expected Wednesday afternoon but apparently was side-tracked in the crush of the President's first press conference and the announcement of the freed U.S. airmen.

Bush, a native of Portsmouth, Ohio, is in Washington. However, he told a reporter that he was in no position to comment for publication.

There is a vacancy on the ICC left by the resignation last year of Commissioner Anthony F. Rapaia.

20 Women Picked For Space Tests

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A series of research tests designed to find out if women are suitable for space travel is being conducted at Lovelace Foundation.

A group of 20 women, all seasoned fliers, have been selected. Their ages range from 23 to 38.

Five have completed the rigorous mental and physical tests, Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, foundation director, said.

He said no results of the tests will be revealed until all have finished the training. He said the latest graduate had completed the tests last week.

Lovelace emphasized the program is purely a research program and has no connection with the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, the Air Force or the Navy.

He said the tests are to compare women with men for some possible future role as crew members on space flights.

Lausche to the unexpired term of Probate and Juvenile Judge of Columbiana County with the term ending January 1955. Finnigan gave an inspirational talk concerning the "greatness" of athletes and men. He listed four necessary qualities — spiritual soundness, courage, excellence, and respect — which he said are needed for any man or athlete to become great.

Finnigan said he never has known a great athlete or man who didn't believe in God. He related a story of Rafer Johnson, track star, who prayed before a huge crowd in Russia before going on to win the decathlon.

In discussing excellence, Finnigan cited a motto he uses. It is, "It's very easy to be ordinary, but it takes courage to excel, and we must excel."

He called on youth to respect their parents.

Tobin spoke briefly at the end of the program and threw out a challenge to the Jaycees. He asked that they work toward obtaining a half dozen lots around town where children can go "just to play." He said they need a spot to wrestle, toss a ball around and just play games. He said the community has many supervised sports leagues, but no space where kids can wear off some energy.

He said an athletic program also is needed for girls. He cited the need for a youth or community center.

Tobin also pointed out that Thompson Park is not being utilized to the fullest, simply because the city doesn't have enough money. He said someone should sponsor tennis tournaments, swimming tournaments, sledding in the winter, etc. "All this can be done with someone to give the direction," he said.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church gave the invocation. W. Edward Adkins, immediate past Jaycee president and state director, was toastmaster. J. James Allison, president, gave the welcome and Alvin Babb, Chamber president, gave the bosses' reply.

The committee in charge included Frank C. Dawson, chairman, Dave Kennedy, Ross Jackson, Paul Zehnder, Richard Cowles and George Hales. Dave Thorn, a high school student, aided in the decorations and preparation of a backdrop for the speaker's table.

Jeep Tows Auto, Auto Rams Jeep, Jeep Tows Auto!

SALINEVILLE — A tow jeep used to get a village driver's station wagon started on Route 39 Wednesday, had to be utilized to pull the vehicle out of a ditch after it rammed the side of the jeep when the driver attempted to pass.

The jeep, driven by LaVerne Gossman of Jefferson St., operator of a service station, had towed the station wagon operated by William Smith of E. Main St. to get the motor started.

When the motor started to run, the tow chain was disconnected and both vehicles moved out again on Route 39 in the eastern part of the town.

Smith started to overtake a d pass the jeep just as Gossman turned left, and the two vehicles collided, the station wagon swerving into a ditch, damaging both sides, Police Chief Cleo Mellott said.

Gossman then pulled the station wagon out of the ditch and back to the service station to await repairs. Neither driver was hurt, Chief Mellott said.

move into high gear until the tempo of construction increases with more favorable weather in the spring, they said.

Hickey said a man will be on duty in his trailer headquarters Monday through Friday from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. to receive job applications, also noting any special skills the job-seekers may possess.

The company will bring in its own foremen and key personnel, he said. Hickey declined to estimate immediately the number his firm ultimately will employ.

Adkins said Chapin & Chapin already has received 400 job applications and has decided not to take any more for the present. Adkins said only six men are employed at present. Chapin & Chapin crews have been cutting brush along the right-of-way between W. 8th St. and the Newell Bridge. By next week, they will begin brush cutting along the stretch from W. 8th north toward the city limits.

THE STATE'S specifications call for completion of the project by Oct. 31, 1962, but Hickey said his company expects to finish its phase of the work prior to the deadline.

McKenna pointed out the city has requested that the contractors construct a new link between W. 9th St. and Lisbon St. before other access to W. 9th is cut off.

When the project is finished, there still will be a connection between W. 9th and Lisbon near the street department barn, but the city has requested that the new access be constructed before the links at Chestnut St. and Dresden Ave. are cut off, he pointed out.

ADKINS SAID he can "see no reason why 9th St. needs to be closed before April or May." In the meantime, his concern will be able to construct the new access between W. 9th and Lisbon St., just north of W. 8th St., he said. It may not have its concrete surface when it first is put into use, but it will be given a temporary slag surface, he said.

The Chapin & Chapin spokesman said most earth-moving work will be done in the W. 8th St. vicinity, so the project will be launched in that area. His concern will install 96-inch pipe to enclose Carpenters Run, but that phase of the work probably will not begin until mid-March, Adkins said. The earth-moving will include a 13-foot cut underneath the Ohio end of the Newell Bridge, where the freeway will pass before linking up with W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

Supt. Betts pointed out the school board has been advised that the project will eliminate the sidewalk on the south side of W. 8th St. west of Jefferson St. He enquired what provisions will be made for youngsters who must walk through that area to Westgate.

ABOUT 60 TO 80 feet of the sidewalk will be torn out in the area around construction of Pier No. 2 for the overhead section of the freeway, McKenna said. The contractors said the torn up sidewalk will be replaced temporarily with slag and a barricade will be built between the new walk and the pier construction site.

The plans call for an overhead walk for pedestrians over the 7th St. ramp of the freeway interchange. There will be an underpass to take them underneath the freeway proper on the way to Westgate.

Work on Pier No. 2 may start in April.

$650,000 School Bond Issue Sold At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A contract for the sale of a $650,000 school bond issue was authorized by the Board of Education Wednesday to the Fahey, Clark & Co. of Cleveland — one of eight firms bidding for the securities.

McDonald & Co. of Cleveland, which handled the sale of the municipal power plant bonds recently, offered 3.75 per cent interest and a premium of $7,355 as the second best bidder.

The board will meet in special session Friday night with Myron Goodwin of Youngstown, architect, to make plans for the construction.

The U.S. Government Printing Office, the largest such establishment in the world, was created by act of Congress in 1860.

Miss Nancy Henry Becomes Bride Of Charles W. Govey

Miss Nancy Henry chose Jan. 17 — her sister's birthday anniversary — for her marriage to Charles William Govey. The Rev. Robert Thomas, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of the Nazarene of Chester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Henry of the Casting Club Rd. and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cyril C. Govey, 206 Church St., Chester.

The altar was decorated with palms, ferns, candelabra and bouquets of white gladioli. Satin bows marked the family pews. James Martin, church organist, presented a half-hour of wedding music. Mrs. Martha Carpenter sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "O Jesus I have Promised."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of embroidered tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice, trimmed with sequins, featured a Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The net overskirt of embroidered snowflake designs fell over a bouffant skirt of ruffled net.

Her queen's crown of sequins and seed pearls held a veil of imported Belgian illusion. She carried a white Bible, the gift of the bridegroom. It was topped with an arrangement of white orchids with satin streamers tied in lovers' knots. She observed the traditions.

Mrs. Barbara Ross was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an emerald green street-length gown of chiffon over taffeta. The lace bodice was styled with a scoop neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. Her matching headband held a circular veil.

Miss Helen Reeder was bridesmaid and wore a beige gown and headband identical to that of the matron of honor. The attendants wore cultured drop pearls, gifts of the bride. They carried Colonial bouquets of yellow roses tied with matching streamers.

Judy Kay Lennens, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and wore a pink nylon party dress trimmed with lace. She wore matching flowers for a headband and carried a basket of rose petals.

Bobby Henry, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Robert Eugene Birch was best man. Ushers were Lewis Govey, brother of the bridegroom; Thomas Govey, his nephew; Lewis Ross, brother-in-law of the bride, and Monty Scott.

The mother of the bride chose medium blue brocade with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in green cashmere with beige accessories. Red rose corsages complemented their costumes.

A reception for 200 followed at the Chester American Legion Home. A four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the buffet table. A pink, white and silver color scheme was used in the appointments. Guests were seated at individual tables covered with paper wedding cloths.

Aides were Mrs. Martha Reight, Mrs. Loretta Hawksworth, Mrs. Pauline McClure, Mrs. Elsie Bailey, Mrs. Mary Alice Fouse and Mrs. Savilla Ward. Miss Bonnie Shelton cut the cake. Mrs. Judy Croft presided at the guest register.

Out-of-town guests were from Burgettstown, Salem and Bellaire. The bride is a graduate of Beaver Local High School and was employed at Hoge's Restaurant.

Her husband was graduated from Chester High School and Ohio Valley Business College. He is an employee of the Classified Advertising Department of The Review. The newlyweds are residing in a newly-furnished home on Alpine Way, Chester.

Projects Cut Crucible's Net

The Crucible Steel Co. of America reports preliminary 1960 sales of $210,900,000 and net income of $1,240,000 equal to 19 cents per common share.

Income for the year was adversely affected by large expenses for major changes in facilities which totaled $6,629,000. This is equivalent to 84 cents per common share after giving effect to income taxes. Reported net income includes a tax credit of $380,000 arising from differences between taxable and book income.

In 1959, net income was $6,106,443 equal to $1.50 per share on sales of $219,229,082.

Commenting on results for 1960 Joel Hunter, president, said, "Extensive and fundamental changes in facilities involving substantial extra costs were undertaken by the company in 1960. The improvement in profit potential is much more important than the impact of these costs on 1960 results."

Capital expenditures in 1960 exceeded $30 million and were the largest in Crucible's history. The principal project was the new continuous hot strip mill at Midland Works completed at a cost of more than $25 million.

Regarding the outlook for 1961, Hunter declared that the present low level of business is a temporary condition. "This will pass in time, perhaps a short time," he said. "Meanwhile, the basic changes made in 1960 will contribute to improved performance for Crucible."

PITTSBURGH—M. J. Day, vice president, commercial, Crucible Steel Co. of America, announced today that Henry A. Sturm has been appointed product sales manager of tool steel. Sturm was previously Manager of the New England Region.

Ex-Postmaster General Dies At 91 In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Walter F. Brown, former U.S. Postmaster General, died today in his suite at a downtown hotel.

The 91-year-old Brown, a native of Massillon, Ohio, began his political career when he stumped the state in 1891 for William McKinley, Republican candidate for governor. Later he headed the Lucas County Republican Party, was chairman of the Ohio GOP Central Committee and was a national committeeman.

Brown was postmaster general during the administration of Herbert Hoover.

An attorney, he also served for many years as chairman of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Co.

Crippled For 5½ Years

Norma's Glad For Polio Fund Help

A 14-year-old East End girl has come a long way in her 5½-year battle back to normalcy from the crippling effects of polio that struck on a sunny September day in 1955, but she still can see months and perhaps years of struggle ahead.

Norma Ice, a studious seventh grader at Klondyke School, is pictured with her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Ice, 843 Valley Ave., who will serve as one of the 15 area captains in the annual Mothers March of Polio in East Liverpool Tuesday night.

Norma is seated in a wheelchair which was provided with March of Dimes funds and holding some of the braces which she has worn in her battle to walk normally again.

The huge brace has strips of heavy elastic which are attached to the backs of the wearer's legs and extend to the middle of the back. The action of the elastic, taking the place of damaged leg muscles, helped Norma walk again.

Norma was only 8 when polio struck without warning. She awakened on Sept. 4, a Sunday morning, complaining of a severe headache. The next day she was so ill that she could walk only with the aid of two canes.

Sept. 7, 1955, Norma was admitted to South Side Hospital at Youngstown, where she was to remain for 5 months. That was the only extended period of hospitalization in her illness, but since that time the family has made countless trips to Youngstown for visits to a physician and for fitting and adjustment of braces.

When Norma first was released from the hospital, the trips to Youngstown were made every two weeks. Then the interval was widened to three weeks and finally to four and six weeks. At present, she is examined about four times a year.

Norma is scheduled to undergo surgery this fall at Youngstown to fuse her spine, which has shown curvature. Muscles about the spine and the stomach also are atrophied. The family said the operation will allow her to get along without the jacket of her braces, which now stretch from her feet to her armpits.

Norma is able to exert a pushing effort with her left leg, but cannot raise it. She has little use of her right leg.

As a result of the spine fusion this fall, she expects to spend all of next winter in bed.

Norma walks with crutches and is able to get around well in her home or on any level spot. She has not missed a day this term at Klondyke School. She rides to school each day with William Chambers of Drain St.

Hospital insurance paid for Norma's five-month stay at Youngstown when the disease first struck and for many of her expenses later. The March of Dimes furnished her with the wheelchair and covered the cost of having one of her braces "re-modeled" last summer.

Mrs. Ice is one of several women with polio-afflicted children in the ranks of the 450 volunteers who will make the house-to-house canvass next Tuesday. She is chairman of the solicitation in the Neville School area.

Injunction Ruling Due On Tank Plan

WEIRTON — The selection of a site for a new one-million-gallon water tank, which has touched off a stormy controversy in the city, apparently won't be decided until Monday.

That's when Judge Ralph Pryor of Hancock County Circuit Court may rule on an injunction brought against the city of Weirton by 16 residents opposing the erection of the tank on Palm Dr.

Judge Pryor approved a motion for a continuance Tuesday in Circuit Court chambers in New Cumberland. The continuance was asked by Atty. Frank Pietrantoni, representing Palm Dr. residents.

Atty. Clarence Spitznogle, Weirton city attorney, and Solicitor Dwight Truschell agreed to the continuance until Monday.

The 16 petitioners contend the installation of the water tank at the Palm Dr. site would devalue their property and would be a hazard and a nuisance.

The Alden E. Stilson engineering firm has declared a section extending from Cove Rd. to Chestnut Woods in the Palm Dr. area as the best site.

The city is preparing to erect the tank because of problems in pumping water to the Weirton Heights area. The new tank would replace the present 200,000-gallon structure, considered inadequate.

Newly Merged Railroad Cites $19 Million Loss

CLEVELAND (AP)—The newly merged Erie-Lackawanna Railroad, with headquarters here, reported a loss of $19,995,614 for 1960.

Passenger revenues showed a reversal in the downturn and increased by $452,804 or 2.9 per cent. Total passenger revenues for the merged roads were $16,074,872.

Principal reasons for the loss, according to M. G. McInnes, president, were "declining industrial production, severe snow storms and union opposition to the Erie-Lackawanna merger."

Film On Roads Shown

50 Attend Annual Meeting Held By Midland Chamber

About 50 attended the 21st annual meeting of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening at the St. Anthony Club when a film on the nation's highway system was screened.

Dr. Thomas S. Boyd, retiring president gave introductory remarks and presented officers and directors who were re-elected recently except for Charles L. Finley, new president.

Guests were Burgess Eli Corak, the Rev. and Mrs. George H. Bohlender of the First Presbyterian Church and Frank Serna, manager of the Rochester AAA who screened the film, "Magic Highway U.S.A."

David Schwerha was chairman for the dinner and program.

Prior to the film, Serna said that in 1902 only 23,000 cars were registered in the country and as a comparison, Beaver County has 65,000 now.

In 1902 there were 150 miles of paved roads and about 143,000 miles of highway which compares today to 2 million miles of paved roads and 650,000 additional miles of graded roads, giving us over 3½ million miles.

Serna said the Beaver County Motor Club was started in 1906 by the 60 persons in the county who then owned autos. He said in those days an auto owner was considered a crackpot.

He said that in 1919, Dwight Eisenhower, then an Army officer, led the first auto caravan from Washington to San Francisco, which took 63 days and had 1,900 breakdowns.

He said that under a new highways program, some 41,000 miles of roads will be built. They will serve two-thirds of the population, connect 42 capitals and 90 per cent of capitals with a population of 50,000 or more.

The cost, estimated at $41 billion, will be financed 90 per cent by the federal government and 10 per cent by states.

The interstate system, when completed, will mean a saving of 4,000 lives a year through better highways. The Beaver County Motor Club wants good highways but believes there should be a fair and equitable formula for taxing for them, he added.

Next regular meeting of the chamber's Board of Directors will be Feb. 16.

The average hen in the United States lays 206 eggs a year, compared to 121 eggs per year three decades ago, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from Francine was absurd. It just isn't true that a woman has to look like a blimp because she's pregnant.

I gained 9 pounds with my last baby. Two days before I went to the hospital I met a friend on the street and she asked me if I had had a boy or a girl. She was flabbergasted when I told her I was due to go to the hospital any day.

Some pregnant women think they can eat for two and get away with it. No wonder they look like blimps. I've had two children and have never worn maternity clothes. So you see — it CAN be done. — SAME SIZE.

Dear Same Size: Yes—it CAN be done but I'd hate to leave the impression that anyone who wants to can (or should) do it.

Most obstetricians want their patients to gain between 15 and 18 pounds, depending on starting weight and general physical condition.

P.S.: I'll bet your women friends hate you!!!

As Good As His Word

Dear Ann: We have four children and they are well behaved as a result of firm handling. My husband, particularly, does not believe in taking any nonsense from kids.

Recently we were visiting in the home of my brother and his wife. They have three children who do pretty much as they please. Their 7-year-old son, Victor, became fascinated with my husband's cuff links. He asked if he could play with them.

My husband said, "No, they are not toys." The child replied, "If you don't let me play with them I'll kick you." My husband told Victor that if he dared to do such a thing he'd get the surprise of his life.

Victor kicked my husband's ankle and my husband turned the boy around and gave him a very hard swat across the seat of the pants. The child screamed and ran to his father. My husband was criticized by both parents and we left shortly after.

They claim nobody has the right to lay a hand on anyone else's child and that their children are never subjected to physical violence. I have mixed feelings about this. Do you have a word for my husband?—SPLIT EMOTIONS.

Dear Split: Yes, just one: Congratulations.

Ring Out The Old

Dear Ann: Gregory gave me an engagement ring after five years of steady courtship. He asked me not wear it "for awhile" because he had been going with another woman for quite some time and wanted to break off with her gradually.

I kept the ring in the drawer for six months then told him if he didn't want me to wear it I wanted to give it back. He said okay and he took the ring.

Last night he told me he had given the ring to the other woman as a birthday gift. He emphasized it was only because he didn't want to spend any money on a present and he hoped I would understand. He begged me to be patient and to trust him.

I've cut myself off from all male companions and I'd be terribly alone if I broke off with him. Advise me.—GRISELDA.

Dear Griselda: Wake up and smell the coffee — you're alone NOW. This man has been working both sides of the street and you would be a fool to believe anything he said. Give him the heave ho.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Crucible Credit Union Re-Elects Its Officers

All officers of the CSAM Federal Credit Union of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. were re-elected at an organization meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday evening.

The group met in the directors' room of the credit union office. Five directors and a credit committee member were elected last Thursday at a membership meeting at the First Presbyterian Church.

There are some 3,500 members.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I launder chamois gloves successfully?

A. When rinsing them, use clean water, but just as soapy as the water in which they were washed. It will keep them nice and soft. After washing, slip off the hands, squeeze in a towel, blow out the fingers, and hang in an airy spot to dry.

Q. Is there anything I can do about some depressed spots on the gasket around the edge of my refrigerator door, which are permitting air leaks into my refrigerator?

A. You can often eliminate these air leaks by placing strips of adhesive tape behind the spots under the gasket to bring them out flush with the edge of the gasket.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Husband's Weight Cut By Secret Diet

Nothing takes the starch out of her man quite so completely as a diet, one homemaker avers, and asks for help in cutting down his poundage. She writes:

"With your encouragement, I've lost 10 pounds and several inches this past summer. My husband insists his spare tire is from potatoes, by Ida Jean Kain which I serve about twice a week, and not from the quarts of ice cream he consumes. So I want to try the impossible and get my husband on a diet without his knowing it."

Impossible? Not at all. One husband found himself losing weight unaccountably — he wasn't trying to diet. Concerned, he dropped into his doctor's office. It was then the doctor explained he had advised the man's wife to cut calories in the kitchen but not to mention diet.

IT'S A WISE wife who takes these tactics. It is possible to cut calories with considerable abandon in the kitchen, without abandoning flavor full and attractive meals. This is the way to set about changing food habits permanently.

Meats are a major source of protein, also of fat. Before cooking meat, trim off fat. Broiling, baking, or roasting leaves a large portion of the fat in the pan. When you cook pot roasts, stews, and soups, do it far enough in advance so you can cool the liquid and skim fat from the top. This fat-skimmed liquid can then be used to make gravy.

Those potatoes he blames for excess pounds can arrive at the table in low-calorie form — low-calorie compared to what they would be if loaded with butter. Bake medium-sized potatoes as usual, then cut off tops and scoop out insides.

Mash, adding enough salt, pepper, and skim milk to make a light, fluffy mixture. Fill potato skins with mixture and sprinkle tops with paprika before returning potatoes to oven to brown.

A change in menu will be inviting and prevent suspicion. Try beef and veal kabobs...good flavor without fat. Take cubed beef and veal and marinate in mixture of 1 part vinegar to two parts water, with added salt, pepper, and garlic. Let meat soak for one hour. Alternate onion slices, green pepper, and tomato wedges with meat on skewers. Broil to desired doneness. Vegetables, cooked only to the peak of flavor, can be served with lemon juice and melted butter, three parts lemon juice to one of fat.

SERVE DESSERTS containing little or no fat...angel cake, fruits, gelatins, skim milk sherbets. Use fruit sauces instead of butter icings on cakes; prepare pies with single crusts or use zweiback or graham cracker crusts.

Leave as much fat as possible in the kitchen. Your husband will soon be able to pull his belt in a notch. The secret: The emphasis is on eating, not on dieting.

Utility Pole Sign Would Cost $50

By Review Correspondent COLUMBUS — A proposed bill to impose a $50 fine for posting signs or marking utility poles has been introduced in the House by Rep. Clarence Wetzel and Rep. J. Warren Bettis of Columbiana County.

The two said the measure is aimed primarily at political candidates who use the poles for campaign signs. Wetzel said the signs are unsightly, adding his belief they are ineffective as campaign efforts. Wetzel also introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of beer or liquor in containers which advertise any other product.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

There are two important things to remember in reference to Personal Property Tax. The first thing to remember is that only intangibles are taxed. Intangibles refer to paper securities such as stocks, bonds, mortgages, judgments and so forth. Tangibles such as your home, auto, furniture, jewelry and cash are not taxable. The second thing to remember is that it is what you own and not what you yourself owe that is taxable. An example would be mortgages. The mortgage you owe on your own home is not taxable but mortgages you hold on someone else's property is taxable.

Q. What type of personal property is taxable?

A. All intangible personal property such as stocks, bonds, mortgages, notes, judgments, open book accounts and evidenced receivable unless specifically exempt are taxable. Tangible personal property such as real estate, furniture, automobiles, jewelry are not taxable.

Q. Are savings accounts, checking accounts or cash taxable?

A. No, they are specifically exempted.

Q. Is real estate taxable under the personal property law?

A. No, they are taxed separately under the Real Estate Tax Law.

Q. Are automobiles and furniture taxable?

A. No. They are not of an income or investment nature.

Q. What is a domestic corporation and is their stock taxable?

A. A domestic corporation is one incorporated in the state of Pennsylvania. The stock of domestic corporations are exempt and are not taxable.

Q. What is a foreign corporation and is their stock taxable?

A. A foreign corporation is one incorporated in another state and their stock is taxable. They do qualify for exemption if the corporation pays a capital stock, franchise tax or a gross premium tax (insurance companies) to the state.

Q. Is the mortgage on my own home taxable?

A. No. This means mortgages that someone else owes you.

Q. At what rate are intangibles taxed?

A. Intangible personal property is taxed at the rate of four mills (.004) on their market value as of December 31, 1960.

Q. If I do not know the value of my stocks on December 31, how do I list them?

A. Enter the name of the corporation; the amount of shares held and indicate whether it is preferred or common. The values will then be calculated by the assessment office.

It is the responsibility of every individual owning taxable personal property to file a return on or before February 15, 1961. Failure to receive a form is no excuse for not filing a return. Forms are available at the Assessment Office in the Court House. The provisions of the Personal Property Tax Law providing for estimated assessments, penalties, interest and fines will be strictly enforced against those who fail to file or against those who file a false or fraudulent, incorrect or incomplete form.

Planned Trip To Europe

Suspect In Bank Robbery Intercepted At Airport

CLEVELAND (AP)—Instead of boarding the SS United States for a leisurely trip to Europe, Mike John Koury today will be making an appearance before a United States commissioner to answer a charge of bank robbery.

FBI agents armed with a warrant charging the 43-year-old Canton man with the $41,510 holdup of a Wooster bank on April 23, 1959, intercepted Koury at the Akron-Canton Airport Wednesday night as he asked for a flight reservation in the name of "J. John."

A United Air Lines official said there "wasn't really any excitement. But a lot of people in the lobby got shook up when these five men moved in on John or Koury and got his hands up in the air."

Koury was to fly to New York Wednesday night to board the luxury liner, scheduled to sail today.

The FBI brought him here to appear before Commissioner Herbert A. Horn on a charge of robbing the Highland Park Shopping Center branch of the Commercial Banking & Trust Co.

The bank, at the north edge of Wooster on Ohio 3, was robbed by two men described as swarthy and well dressed. Armed with snub-nosed revolvers, the two herded Richard Tracey, manager of the branch, and a teller into a back room. They looted a vault and walked out with a paper bag full of money.

Edward E. Hargett, FBI agent in charge of the Cleveland office, said Koury was employed at the Canton plant of the Ford Motor Co. but reportedly had been furloughed. Koury is married and has four children.

He was sentenced to Mansfield Reformatory in 1942 for breaking and entering but later was permitted to enlist in the Army and was granted a conditional pardon in 1947, apparently as a reward for his war service.

Hargett said the arrest resulted from intensive investigation of the activities of three other men who have been charged with bank robbery.

One of the three, he said, is Thomas Georgalas, 26, of Warren, who Wednesday was convicted of participating in the Aug. 11, 1960, holdup of the Cornersburg office of the Mahoning National Bank. Hargett identified the other two men as Frank Anzur, 34, of Youngstown, and George Kousaie of Canton.

Anzur pleaded guilty of taking part in the Cornersburg holdup and has been charged, along with Kousaie, in the Jan. 24, 1959, holdup of the Country Fair branch of the Citizens Savings Association in Canton.

Kousaie also is charged with the April 3, 1959 robbery of the Akron Savings & Loan Co.'s South Arlington Plaza branch.

Republic Steel Cites Drop In 1960 Income

CLEVELAND (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. reports its 1960 net income for 1960 dropped slightly from the 1959 figure.

Net income for 1960 was $52,846,373, equal to $3.36 per share of common stock. This compares with the previous year's net income of $53,890,116, equal to $3.43 per share.

The company reported sales dropped 2 per cent in 1960 to $1,053,873,006. Sales in 1959 totaled $1,076,832,407.

T. F. Patton, Republic's president, attributed the drop to increases in production costs without any adjustment in prices, due to competitive conditions.

1 Killed, 5 Injured In Single Car Crash

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—Kathleen Swiger, 16, of Rt. 1, Jackson Center, was killed and five other youths were injured when her car crashed on Ohio 47 about seven miles northeast of here Wednesday night.

Injured, all of Jackson Center, were Kenneth Maxwell, 19; Barbara Wheaton, 16; Nancy Driskill, 17; Jane Stokstil, 16, and Charles Herring, 16. Maxwell was admitted to a hospital in Sidney, the rest were treated and released.

Entrances to the Capitol were so crowded on Inauguration Day, 1829, that President-elect Andrew Jackson climbed over a wall and entered through a subbasement.

Portsmouth Area AEC Office Has New Chief

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Walter Koester Jr., on the Atomic Energy Commission's Oak Ridge Operations staff for 14 years, has been named operations chief at the AEC's Portsmouth, Ohio, area office, the agency announced. Koester succeeds R. H. Thalgot who was promoted to area manager last August.

The AEC's Portsmouth area office has over-all responsibility for a huge gaseous diffusion plant producing enriched uranium 235.

Experiments conducted at Michigan State University indicate that stop-and-go traffic is 48 per cent responsible for the amount of fuel used in a car on city streets.

Potter Cagers Take To Road This Weekend

The East Liverpool Potters will be on the road this weekend in quest of victories No. 8 and 9. Coach Jim Harris' squad will play at New Philadelphia Friday night, then move on to Canton for a Saturday night engagement with McKinley in the spacious Canton fieldhouse.

The Potters will face a New Philly team in the midst of one of its worst seasons. In 10 games, the Quakers have only recorded two victories.

New Philly has defeated Canton Lehman, 53-49, and North Canton, 48-47.

East Liverpool and Philly have faced only one common foe — Alliance. The Potters lost to the Aviators, 69-65, while New Philly dropped a 68-55 decision.

Other losses on the Quaker schedule have been to Cambridge, Martins Ferry, Zanesville, Dover, Uhrichsville, Sandy Valley and Bridgeport in an overtime battle.

Face Philly Friday, Then McKinley

The Quakers will have more height than East Liverpool, as can be expected most any place the "Little Potters" go.

Jerry Smith, a 6-foot-3 junior and only regular back from last season, has been the big gun for New Philly. In 10 games, he has scored 155 points to put him way out in front as the team's leading scorer.

New Philly will start two other lettermen. They are Don Murphy, 6-foot-1 senior, and Jerry Polka, 5-foot-10 senior. Dick Ray, a 6-foot-3 junior, and Jack Cargnel, 5-foot-10 sophomore, round out the starting five.

Reserve teams will open the action Friday at 7 p. m., with the varsity tilt at 8:30. The game will be played on New Philadelphia's 2,200-seat ultra modern gymnasium, rated the finest court in the area.

Canton McKinley will be the tallest team that East Liverpool has faced this season. East Liverpool will hope for a good shooting night and plenty of hustle to whittle the Bulldogs down to its size.

The veteran Bud Rearick will start a team that averages about 6-foot-2. Bob Miller at 6-foot-3 is McKinley's leading scorer. In 11 games he has poured in 200 points for an 18.2 average, which places him as the second leading scorer in Stark County.

The biggest men on the team are Bill Morgan at 6-foot-5 and Dave Katusin 6-foot-4. Morgan has scored 107 points, while Katusin is right on his tail with 105.

A pair of low-scoring guards round out the lineup. They are Ted Scovill and Don Williams, both 6-footers.

McKinley has been a hot and cold team. After winning its first five starts, the Bulldogs have lost four out of the last six.

The five-game winning streak showed victories over Cleveland Lincoln, Mansfield, Niles, Akron Garfield and Akron Buchtel.

Massillon was the first to top McKinley this season when the Tigers pulled the freeze on the Bulldogs. Canton also lost to Canton Lincoln, Steubenville Big Red and last week to Kent Roosevelt.

Canton defeated Warren, 72-57, a team East Liverpool toppled, 65-53.

McKinley meets Canton Lehman Friday night at the field house. Saturday's reserve game will get under way about 7, with the varsity tilt set at 8:30.

EL, Stanton Aces Top Area Scoring

A rather snug race has developed on the area basketball scene for the best individual scoring average with only a fraction of a percentage separating the two leaders.

East Liverpool High guard Ken Cunningham, a consistent scorer since a sophomore, and Stanton Local's Don (Wilt) Spire, 6-foot, 6-inch center, own the best scoring averages in the area.

Cunningham, 5-11 senior, shows a flashy 21.6 average in East Liverpool's nine games with a total of 195. The Potters have lost only two.

Spire, talented junior, has amassed a total of 280 points in leading Stanton Local's Irons to 13 straight victories. Spire's average is 21.5.

The Potter star will be in action in two weekend games, with the Potters on the road in meeting New Philadelphia Friday night and Canton McKinley on Saturday.

Spire, who looped 35 in his last outing against Salineville, gets a well-deserved rest before the Irons return to action Feb. 4. Coach Harry Diehl's Irondale squad has only to defeat Hopedale, Springfield Local and Newell for an unbeaten season, first in the school's history if it occurs. The big test appears to be rival Springfield which is the only away game the Irons have left on their slate.

Wellsville's Bob Kiggins, 6-4 senior, isn't far off the pace of the leaders with a 19.5 average in eight games.

Season records and individual scoring leaders of area teams follow:

2 Forfeits Lead To EL's Third Wrestling Setback

A forfeit in the 112-pound class and an injury to captain John Goodballet led to East Liverpool's third wrestling defeat in four starts Wednesday at Weirton.

Weirton picked up 10 points on the two forfeits and went on to win, 26-19.

Following a scoreless first period, Goodballet's shoulder cracked against the floor as he went off the mat. He was detained overnight in Weirton General Hospital. Rey Peduzzi, Potter wrestling coach, said Goodballet suffered a "severe sprain or strain of the shoulder."

Weirton won six of the eleven matches and recorded two pins along the route. Weirton's Billcheck pinned Tom Czech in 1:06 of the 140-pound match and Burns threw Allen Douglas in 2:28.

Two Potter victories were recorded by a brother combination. Dom Danzo, at 105, decided Allese 7-5 and his brother Frank pinned Turkaley in 20 seconds of the first period.

Gary Burton (129) decisioned Chonpenning 6-5 and Joe Jackson shut out Teannant 7-0 and Gene Wolfe, 177, pinned Belpen in 2:58.

East Liverpool wrestles at Canton Central Friday.

The results follow:

Golfers Fight Wet Course At San Francisco

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Golf professionals battled a wet Wednesday's pro-amateur preliminary round of the $57,000 San Francisco International Open tournament—a surprise since Northern California has experienced its driest winter since 1897.

Wellsville-Salem Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Wellsville High-Salem basketball game Friday night in Salem are now on sale at Bloor's, Culp's and McMorro's drug stores, Don Lowe, Wellsville's faculty manager, announced. On sale are 150 reserved seat tickets for $1 each. The school also received 100 student tickets. The reserve game gets underway at 7:30, with the varsity game scheduled for 9, Lowe said.

Drenched golfers could hardly believe it as a storm blew in for Wednesday's pro-amateur preliminary. The rain was expected to continue, as the pros battle for the $9,000 first prize in the 72-hole event.

Billy Casper fired a 5-under-par 66, proving it can be done over this 6,672-yard municipal course with its par 36-35-71.

Gary Player of South Africa and Bert Weaver of Daytona Beach, Fla., each had 68 in the pro-amateur firing. Bob Rosburg, winner of last week's Bing Crosby event, had a 70. Ken Venturi and Arnold Palmer were among those carding even-par 71's.

Casper teamed with Tom Dixon, former Harding Park champion, to tie for top honors in the pro-am team. They had a best-ball 61 as did Bob Goetz, Tulsa, Okla., pro, and John Woodson, Fairfax, Calif., amateur.

Today's starting field included a host of foreign golfers, many of them competing by special invitation.

Still the favorites at the start were Palmer, Casper and Venturi, who did much of his teen-age playing at this course where his father is one of the pros.

Jefferson 'A' Tourney Set

IRONDALE — The 36th annual Jefferson County Class A basketball tournament will open at Brilliant High School's gymnasium Thursday night, Feb. 16.

C. P. Henderson, superintendent of Stanton Local Schools, will again serve as tournament manager.

The tournament will continue Saturday night, Feb. 18, Thursday night, Feb. 23, and the championship and consolation games are scheduled for Saturday night, Feb. 25.

The drawing for seeded positions will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday, Feb. 11, in the office of Ray B. Roshon, superintendent of Jefferson County schools, in the county courthouse in Steubenville.

The tournament field returns to nine schools this year after operating with eight the past two years while Springfield Local was rated a "double A" school.

Heading the field is Stanton Local with an unbeaten record thus far in county competition. Other schools participating will be Brilliant, the defending champion, Adena, Dillonvale, Mt. Pleasant, Yorkville, Wayne and Smithfield.

Indians, Reds To Play Two Exhibition Games

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians and the Cincinnati Reds will play two exhibition games this year for the benefit of sandlot ball players in their cities.

The first will be in Cincinnati on May 18 and the second at Cleveland Aug. 10.

Every year since 1948, the Cleveland Baseball Federation has sponsored the benefit game with entire proceeds going to its medical and equipment fund. The federation has raised more than $750,000 for sandlotters since 1948.

Spahn Shoots To New High

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Warren Spahn, the highest salaried pitcher in baseball, is ready to shoot for victory No. 300 after signing a Milwaukee contract for an estimated $75,000 for his 16th full season with the Braves.

County Fish And Game Assn. To Hold Shoot

The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association will hold a ham shoot Sunday at 1 p. m. at the club's rifle range located off Route 7 on the Lisbon-Elkton Rd. Still targets and trap shooting will be featured.

The National League's all-time winning southpaw with 288 victories quickly agreed to terms in an unheralded conference with General Manager John McHale Wednesday before quietly slipping out of town for a brief visit at his Hartshorne, Okla., ranch.

Spahn, who will be honored by New York sports writers Sunday as 1960 "Player of the Year," was described by a Braves' spokesman as "very happy" with his new contract. As usual, terms were not disclosed, but it was reported reliably that Spahn received a nominal increase.

Spahn was bothered by a knee ailment following winter surgery early last season, but had a tremendous second half and wound up with a 21-10 record. It marked the 11th time he had won 20 or more in a season—a feat topped only by Hall of Famers Cy Young, Walter Johnson and Christy Mathewson.

Wounded and decorated for heroism as an Army infantryman in World War II, Spahn won his first game for the Braves, then in Boston, in 1946. He has gone on to set a flock of records since that time.

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Construction of a fifth golf course has begun at the Pinehurst Country Club. The winter resort club tucked away in North Carolina's sandhills hopes to have the course ready for play in September.

Nuxhall Ends Long Term At Cincy, Traded To A's

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joe Nuxhall, the Hamilton native who made his first pitching appearance with the Cincinnati Reds when he was only 15 years old, has been sold to Kansas City of the American League.

Nuxhall, now 32, long has been regarded as a pitcher with great potential. But he never quite lived up to expectations after posting fine 12-5 and 17-12 records in 1954 and 1955.

Nuxhall, a southpaw, had only a 1-8 record last season, his ninth with the Reds.

Although the deal with the Athletics was announced as a sale the transaction also apparently involved some minor leaguers. The A's sold pitcher John Tsitouris, 24, to Indianapolis of the American Association, a Redleg farm affiliate, and they shipped pitcher John Briggs from the new Honolulu club of the Pacific Coast League to Indianapolis.

Briggs pitched for Cleveland and Kansas City last year with a 4-4 record in 29 appearances.

In the contract department, the Reds put the signed 1961 pacts of six more players in the strong box today.

They came by mail from pitchers Bill Henry and Orlando Pena, catchers Hal Bevan and Jerry Zimmerman, shortstop Roge Cardenas and first baseman Leopold Alvarez.

Henry, a veteran reliever, had only a 1-5 record with the Reds last season but in his last 13 appearances he pitched in 25 innings with only a 1.80 earned run average. Pena has been with the Reds at various times previously and Cardenas hit .232 in 48 games with Cincinnati last season. Alvarez was called up from Jersey City on Sept. 12 and played in three games.

JOE NUXHALL Ends Long Stay At Cincy.

Bevan and Zimmermar will be newcomers with the Reds although Bevan is a 30-year-old veteran.

all the way. The losers Tony Fedor's 18 points was high for the night.

In a game played at Cleveland Arena, the top-ranked small college team, Tennessee A&I, won its 17th straight against one loss, outclassing Gannon College of Erie, Pa., 115-68.

The game was a preliminary to the Cleveland-New York National Industrial Basketball League game. Cleveland won 90-81.

Musial Agrees In 30 Seconds

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, armed with a contract for about $75,000 and a realistic attitude about his future, looked forward today to his 20th season with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Women Cage Boosters Set Meeting Tonight

The Women's Basketball Boosters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Hi-Teen rooms of the YMCA.

The 40-year-old National League great agreed to terms Wednesday "within 30 seconds" and said he had been "treated royally."

The pact, which brought his unofficial baseball earnings to $1,128,777, is believed to have called for $5,000 less than last year's $80,000 figure.

Neither Musial nor Redbird General Manager Bing Devine would talk in dollars and cents, but Devine did say:

"The contract represents a slight adjustment from last year...to fit in with the extent of Stan's participation, his reduced schedule."

Musial, whose .275 batting average in 116 games last year belies his true role in the Redbirds' surprising third-place finish, would like to play in 100 games in 1961.

Stan said he felt physically sound, with none of the muscle or ligament ailments which sometimes signal the beginning of the end of baseball careers.

Providence, Louisville Cop College Cage Battles

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Looks like the win-lose close Providence Friars are odds-on to get another chance to whip that Madison Square Garden jinx that stands as the only obstacle between them and one of the tightest winning streaks around in college basketball.

The Friars, who get a big and little boost from 6-10 Jimmy Hadnot and 6-footer Johnny Egan, played 26 games—20 in non-Garden dates and six in a pair of New York tournaments, the NIT and the recent Holiday Festival.

Of the 26, they've won 23, including all 20 non-Garden dates. The three losses have been Garden-made—first in the NIT championship game with Bradley last March, and the two this season, to St. Johns and Seton Hall, in the Holiday Festival in December.

Also Wednesday night eighth-ranked Louisville (15-2) shook off Kentucky Wesleyan in the last nine minutes for an 82-66 decision. Pitt spilled erratic Villanova 57-55, Army (11-4) won its seventh straight, 77-74 in overtime over small college power Hofstra, LSU toppled Loyola of New Orleans 51-49, and Georgia thumped Mercer 66-46.

Rookie Third Baseman Will Start For Chisox

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Martin, a rookie third baseman who has topped the 300 mark only once in five minor league seasons, represents probably the biggest gamble taken by Al Lopez since he became manager of the Chicago White Sox in 1957.

Lopez has installed Martin as the team's regular third baseman for 1961.

"I haven't the slightest doubt that Martin can do the job," Lopez said. "He's an aggressive fellow. Hollis Thurston, our top scout, rated the kid the best defensive third baseman in the Pacific Coast League last year with San Diego."

Martin batted 285 last season hit 13 home runs and drove in 73. His best year was in 1958 when he batted .330 for Duluth-Superior in the Northern League. The next year he hit .287 at Indianapolis.

Two other highly regarded youngsters are outfielders Stan Johnson and Floyd Robinson. Johnson, 23, was the Pacific Coast League's second best hitter at .335.

Robinson, who was brought up near the end of last year, batted .318 at San Diego. Dean Look, former Michigan State football star, is another rookie outfielder. He comes up after hitting .285 at Lincoln in his first year of professional ball.

The most promising of the new pitchers is Gary Peters, a 23-year-old left-hander. He won 12 and lost 9 at San Diego.

Camilo Carreon, a 23-year-old catcher, is counted on to win a job. A .279 hitter at San Diego, he may be converted into a first baseman.

Disch' Yields Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue's Terry Dischinger, for the first time in his varsity career, has yielded the scoring lead in the Big Ten basketball race.

Held to 17 points in his team's 64-62 loss to Northwestern Monday, Dischinger fell to a 26.5 average in four conference games. Replacing him in the lead, according to official statistics today, is Ohio State's Jerry Lucas with a 29.0 average in three league games.

The two sharp sharpshooters come face-to-face Saturday afternoon when Purdue invades unbeaten and top-ranked Ohio State for a regionally televised encounter.

The Buckeyes, shooting for their 14th victory of the campaign, top the Big Ten in field goal accuracy with a 47.2 percentage and are first from the free throw line with .838. They are tops in offense with an 81 point average and the same in defense with an average yield of 55 points.

Purdue is averaging 63 points a game and yielding 58.

Lucas' leading .673 field goal percentage compares with .567 for Dischinger. But the Purdue star has made good on 32 of 34 free throw attempts. Lucas has hit on 21 of 23.

Hoyt Brawner is in his 13th season as the University of Denver basketball coach.

Vikings Ready To Name 36-Player Squad Today

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings today were busy stocking their new National Football League roster with 36 veterans while the league wrestled with its scheduling problems.

The Vikings had until noon to complete their selection of 36 veterans from the 96 made available by 12 other clubs (Dallas, the 1960 addition, excepted).

General Manager Bert Rose said he will announce the names in groups of six or nine as soon as the "old" clubs had a chance to notify the players. He estimated it would be mid-afternoon before he would have the first names.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin, talent scout Joe Thomas and Rose spent most of the night wrestling with the selections. They set up two blackboards in a hotel room, one for the names of offensive players, the other for the defensive men. First they put down the names of the 20 college rookies they had drafted and quarterback George Shaw, acquired from New York in a deal. Then they tried to sort out the best of the available men into balanced units.

Rose said the Vikings were building for the future and expected to emphasize youth with a sprinkling of veterans. "Our fans don't expect too much the first year," he said.

The league probably will settle for a 14-game schedule, an increase of two games over the 1960 chart. However, there is some sentiment for 13 games.

Negotiations Open To Clear Muddle For Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Bill Fugazy said today he has begun negotiations for an outdoor fight in New York this summer to clear up the middleweight title muddle.

Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, Inc., said he already has discussed the situation with Paul Pender and Gene Fullmer, coholders of the world middleweight title. Pender, of Brookline, Mass., is recognized by New York, Massachusetts, Britain and Europe. Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, is the National Boxing Association champion.

Fugazy said he was interested at first in promoting the fight in early April. He said Fullmer told him he couldn't be ready that early because of his title defense against Sugar Ray Robinson in Las Vegas, March 4.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Petite Joya Utermohlen of New York City employs her forte tonight in the free skating program in an effort to win the first title of the 1961 National Figure Skating Championships.

The 14-year-old miss took a commanding lead in the novice ladies competition while a three-way race developed in the men's class.

Miss Utermohlen gave a peerless performance Wednesday in the four required figures.

The figures count 60 per cent toward the over-all scoring in this competition. Each skater is allowed five minutes tonight in a free skating program that counts 40 per cent toward one's score.

Lithe young Peter Joseph Meyer of Buffalo, N.Y., drew only one first-place ballot from the five judges in his required figures but emerged with a slender lead over King Cole of Seattle and Loren Carlson of Denver.

The championships end Saturday night.

President Views Obstacles

Fliers' Release Enhances Kennedy-Khrushchev Talk

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet release of two imprisoned American fliers increased today the chances for a meeting between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev later this year. But in Kennedy's view many other obstacles to a summit conference must still be cleared away.

Kennedy announced the freeing of the two airmen, Capt. John R. McKone of Topeka, Kan., and Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., at his first presidential news conference Wednesday night. It was a goodwill gesture by Khrushchev and something of a diplomatic triumph for Kennedy.

Kennedy offered a goodwill gesture of his own, announcing he had ordered that U2 spy plane flights over the Soviet Union not be resumed. In that action he renewed an assurance given by President Eisenhower when the Paris summit conference blew up last May. Khrushchev had declared then his interest in knowing whether Eisenhower's successor would resume the flights.

On other matters dealing with foreign relations, Kennedy said: (1) There are no present plans for reopening diplomatic relations with Cuba, (2) There has been no Soviet reaction to the British proposal for reviving an international control commission for Laos and (3) U.S. contributions of foodstuffs will be increased substantially to relieve famine in the Congo.

One question posed by Kennedy's announcement was whether Khrushchev and he had exchanged concessions—the release of the airmen for a pledge of no more spy flights. When asked if Khrushchev had required a concession to free McKone and Olmstead, Kennedy replied that he did not.

The President also said that he would not "attempt to make a judgment as to why the Soviet Union chose to release them at this time." Some officials reported that U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson raised the subject of the imprisoned airmen in a two-hour conference with Khrushchev last Saturday. Others said Khrushchev was the first to bring it up.

The men had been held since last July 1 when their RB47 jet was shot down over the Barents Sea. The United States said the plane was deliberately attacked over international waters. The Soviets said it had invaded Soviet airspace on an espionage mission.

Moscow linked the RB47 with the U2 flight of pilot Francis Gary Powers which went down in the Soviet Union May 1. Powers was sentenced as a spy and is still held by the Soviets.

Under the Eisenhower administration the State Department made repeated demands on the Soviet Union to free the two RB47 airmen. The demands were ignored or refused. The Soviet government said McKone and Olmstead would be tried for espionage. But after Kennedy's election in November officials here decided there was a good chance Khrushchev would release the two following Kennedy's inauguration.

Meanwhile Khrushchev had bitterly and repeatedly denounced the U2 flights, for which he blamed Eisenhower. At the same time he talked about a new era in U.S.-Soviet affairs when the new administration took over in Washington. Thus from the beginning the RB47 incident and the U2 flight were linked in his view. The elements of a mutual understanding, whether openly stated or not, were clearly possible when Khrushchev met Saturday with Thompson.

But diplomats here, including U.S. officials, see Khrushchev's release of the fliers in a much broader context. They regard it as the first step in a carefully prepared Soviet strategy for a new "peace offensive" directed toward reopening U.S.-Soviet negotiations on the road to a new summit conference.

Measured by this purpose the release of the airmen was an opening gesture of good will—and one with global propaganda value. Kennedy himself said the action "removes a serious obstacle to improvement of Soviet-American relations." And in Moscow the Foreign Office declared McKone and Olmstead were freed in "a sincere desire to usher in a new stage in relations between the Soviet government and the United States."

The removal of barriers to negotiation only opens the way for tackling the greater issues. The best informed officials say that progress—or the lack of it—on these issues will determine whether or not there is to be a summit conference. But in the "atmosphere of civility" as Kennedy called it, they are somewhat more hopeful for the future.

The major immediate issues are Laos, Cuba and the Congo. Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are watching closely to see how Khrushchev now handles Soviet policies toward those countries.

George Vukas, president, conducted business and Mrs. Alvin Stevens led devotions. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Helen Rayburn, Mrs. Arthur Daugherty and Mrs. Louise Dent.

Chester Park Commission Advances Plans For Building

Plans for the completion of the community building at Chester's City Park—made possible through a $6,000 loan—were advanced at a meeting of the Park Commission Wednesday night at the City Hall.

The commission has signed a note for $6,000 from the First National Bank of East Liverpool, clearing way for payment of $4,289 due Robert Finley, contractor, for work done on the building and for resumption of work.

Harold Dickey, chairman, said wiring for controls for gas heaters will be done first, followed by installation of floor tile and completion of the kitchen.

There is some $1,300 in the commission's treasury. Work will not begin until warm weather permits, Dickey said. Discussion was held on an offer by the U. S. Engineers for park land along the Ohio River to be affected by the rise of the river after completion of the Stratton Super-dam.

The commission, which is seeking $700 for the tract, is awaiting a meeting with engineers' representatives to discuss the offer. About 150 attended a public smorgasbord held by the Band Mothers and the commission Tuesday night at the First Christian Church. A financial report is not yet ready, Dickey said.

The next meeting is Feb. 8.

Reactor 'Heart' Arrives

Prime Example Of Depressed Areas

West Virginia's Jobless Condition Described Grim

Conditions are grim in West Virginia. It is the prime example of bad times in the depressed labor areas of the nation. Nate Polowetzky, Associated Press assistant general business editor, touring these areas, reports on West Virginia in the following article.

By NATE POLOWETZKY
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Abandoned wooden houses, boarded up and rotting in the rain, some being torn apart for kindling, stand as grim symbols of the soul-killing unemployment that grips the southern West Virginia coal fields.

Dirty children, hungry and ill clothed, and sad faced men stand along muddy roads and stare into the mountains. The mines are shut.

Row after row of empty stores display — with optimism — "for rent" signs along the main streets of once prosperous coal towns. The mines are shut.

Half-mile long lines of empty coal cars stand mutely on railroad sidings waiting for cargoes that will never come. The mines are shut.

"The day before last Christmas," reports a civic leader in a coal town, "I delivered a $20 food parcel to a miner's family for my church. There was a husband, a wife, and, I think, six children. The day after New Year's I returned to deliver another package. Do you know that woman said the second package was the first bit of food to enter that house since my previous visit?"

Reports a housewife who helped in the state's 1960 census. "You wouldn't believe it but some families reported that not a cent—not a cent, mind you, had come into their house for a whole year."

This is the depressed area of West Virginia, one of the worst in the nation—an area that may never again—at least in the foreseeable future—be cured of its ills.

To help such areas the new administration of President Kennedy has given top priority to legislation providing for government help to improve existing industrial plants, attract new industry and retrain unemployed workers.

Very few in these parts see this—or anything much else—as a solution to the area's woes.

For the coal fields of West Virginia have been sorely hit by mechanization through which a comparative handful of men now produce as much, if not more, coal than scores did some years back.

And coal, which once dispensed wealth with ease, has had to abdicate in the face of changes in consumer and industrial tastes in fuel.

Production has failed to rise because railroads switched to diesels and electrification; homes and industries changed to oil and gas; foreign residual oil found its place in coal's traditional east coast markets, and some foreign countries put up tariffs against American coal.

It is unlikely these markets will be regained and even if production should rise it is almost impossible the old time employment will ever return.

What makes it even worse is that the situation may have little connection with the state of the nation's health. Things don't get much better during the nation's prosperity. But they get worse during recession.

The depression in coal also has caused unemployment in other industries dependent on it. Additionally, the state's glass ware industry has found stiff competition in foreign imports, leading to other layoffs and cutbacks.

As a result, some 85,000 persons are out of work in West Virginia. Between 30,000 and 35,000 have exhausted their unemployment benefits. At least 250,000 persons last December were receiving surplus food commodities from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and another 40,000 were eligible for surplus food.

The unemployment rate in the state is from 10 to 12 per cent, compared to a national figure of 6.4 per cent. In coal-producing McDowell County the rate is 28.9 per cent.

In the 10 years from 1950 to 1960, the state's population dropped from 2,500,522 to 1,860,000. The young and the eager were leaving.

The state's economic picture is not one of unrelieved gloom, however.

Such industries as power and oil and gas have expanded and provided new jobs in the Kanawha Valley around Charleston and new industries such as chemicals, wood processing, metals, plastics and rubber fabrication, have moved into the Ohio River Valley in the last five years.

This is expected to provide more than 6,000 new jobs in the Charleston area by 1963 and 19,600 in the Wheeling area.

Hope is also held for new industries and expansion in north-central West Virginia and the eastern part on the Virginia border.

But even the most optimistic observers state these developments will be able to make only a small dent in the coal fields unemployment on top of an increased labor force.

To help combat unemployment, the state has started some public works; new Gov. W. W. Barron increased the tax on consumer purchases to raise money for more public works and conservation programs; the state has begun thorough studies of manpower needs of the future with an eye for wholesale retraining of unemployed coal miners and others.

Among small communities there is a spirit of determination to improve their towns, straighten out tax laws, build better roads and communications facilities, new schools and recreational facilities. All with an eye to attracting new industries.

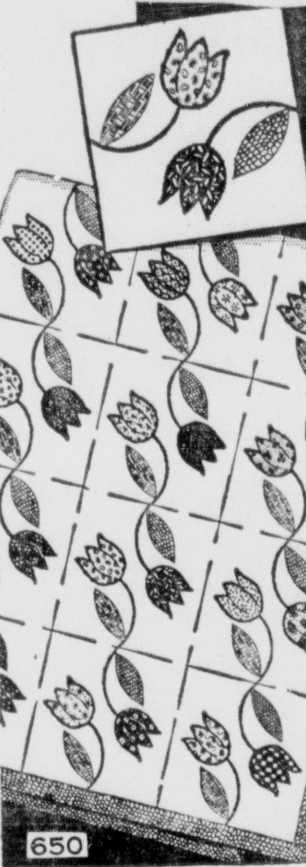

There is much talk heard of turning beautiful West Virginia into a tourists' paradise.

Plans are also being discussed for more research in other uses of coal to create new industries in the state and more production, as well as the establishment of local industries to process such natural resources as timber instead of shipping this natural wealth outside.

But these are off in the distance. The problem in the coal areas is immediate.

Blushing is caused by the dilation of the blood vessels in the face, due to excitement or nervousness. The blood vessels expand and the blood rushes in to fill them.

Cites Private Funds Movement

Kennedy OKs Suggestion To Curb Drain On Gold

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special task force on economic problems had to wait only a few hours Wednesday night to see President Kennedy adopt its No. 1 suggestion for curbing the drain on U.S. gold reserves.

Kennedy told his news conference the value of the dollar must be protected and can be protected without restricting the movement of private funds between the United States and the rest of the world.

The task force headed by Allan Sproul, former president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, met earlier Wednesday with Kennedy and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. The group urged a strong statement by Kennedy that the dollar would not be devalued and that curbs would not be imposed on money movements.

While the 22-page report of the three-member committee emphasized the gold-dollar problem, it also included suggestions for stimulating the economy.

The task force recommended greater federal aid to the unemployed but said massive spending increases were neither necessary nor desirable to combat the business slump. The group indicated it expects only a mild and brief recession.

To bolster the dollar, it advocated these new measures:

1. Repeal of tax incentives designed to encourage private American investment in other industrial countries.

2. Reduction of the amount of foreign goods which may be brought into the United States free of duty by tourists returning from overseas. The amount now is $500.

In a statement, Kennedy called the report very useful and said the recommendations merited close attention.

The report was generally conservative in tone and frequently echoed the views and policies of former President Dwight Eisenhower and his secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson.

For example, the task force urged Kennedy to "pursue effectively" steps ordered earlier by Eisenhower in his effort to attack the gold-dollar problem.

The group thus indirectly endorsed Eisenhower's controversial move to gradually reduce the number of military dependents abroad.

Kennedy told his news conference the administration is reviewing the implications of Eisenhower's order. He said the question is whether some less harmful alternative would be equally effective in protecting the dwindling gold supply. He indicated no decision had been made yet.

8 Receive Life Memberships In Ohio Pastors Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 2,300 delegates to the Ohio Pastors Convention headed home today after concluding their 42nd annual get-together.

During the final day of the four-day convention eight clergymen were presented life memberships in the organization in recognition of their devoted services to the churches of Ohio. They are:

The Rev. Dr. Franklin H. Minck of Dayton; the Rev. Dr. Edgar Bruce Jacobs, formerly of Lima, now of Columbus; the Rev. Dr. C. Clark Shedd of Toledo; the Rev. Dr. William K. Messner of Dayton; the Rev. Dr. Millard J. Miller of Westerville; the Rev. Dr. Albert B. Denton of Akron; the Rev. Dr. Paul G. Gauss of Youngstown, and the Rev. Dr. G. Weir Hartman of Columbus.

Charles A. Wells, editor-publisher of "Between the Lines," a national newsletter, again shared the spotlight Wednesday answering questions about his talk on Russia Tuesday night.

He said the Russians are not succeeding in stamping out the peoples' love of art and literature, nor their respect for religion.

Dr. Wells pointed out that although the Communist state is sworn to atheism, more than 50 per cent of Russian youths are being married in churches and at least 65 per cent of the babies are being baptized.

Earlier the Rev. Dr. Nels Ferre of the Andover Newton Theological Seminary said Americans can help enslaved people by providing them with a meaningful existence.

Through this existence, which he termed "giving help to people and encouraging them to earn American citizenship by accepting responsibility," Christianity can spread rapidly among the enslaved people, he said.

Sohio Charges Union
With Unfair Practice

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Standard Oil Co. of Ohio (Sohio) has filed three unfair labor practices charges against the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, alleging failure and refusal to bargain on contracts.

The charges filed Wednesday before the National Labor Relations Board allege that the union refused to execute written contracts at the company's No. 1 and No. 2 refineries in Lima. This despite agreement of union members on a 14-cent hourly increase, Sohio said.

The company charged the union with trying to coerce Sohio into bargaining with all locals of the union as a single bargaining unit. The union refused to enter into collective bargaining agreements with managements of the three plants without getting approval from Sohio Council, composed of delegates of the unions, the company alleged.

Sandusky Physician
Bids For Sailing Title

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A physician from Sandusky, Ohio, and a son of two-time winner of this event battled to the wire today for the National Midwinter Thistle Class Sailing Championship.

Dr. Robert DeRue started the five-mile showdown race with a 2 1/4 point lead over Skip Boston of Mount Clemens, Mich. DeRue compiled 119 1/4 points in the first four races of the annual event. He had fifth and second place finishes Wednesday.

Boston, whose father was a contender for the championship several times and won it twice, slipped to second place in standings when he finished eighth and fourth in heats for the 32-boat fleet.

DeRue and Boston faced a solid threat from Elmer Richards of New York City and also Dave Minton of Columbus, Ohio.

Women's International
4-Ball Golf Play Opens

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—A stellar field goes after the 16th Women's International Four-Ball Golf Tournament today with a good chance the title will be won by the 1959 champions.

Marlene Streit of Toronto and Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, were favored to dethrone the 1960 titlists, Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., and Doris Phillips, Belleville, Ill.

Mrs. Streit won her third successive Doherty Cup at nearby Fort Lauderdale last week. Mrs. Johnstone and Miss Goodwin were members of the victorious U.S. 1960 Curtis Cup team, as were two other four-ball contenders, Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., and Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan.

The 17th annual ball will be held between Christmas and New Year's, but no specific date has been set.

70 At Troop's Charter Rites

About 70 attended a charter presentation at the Lawrenceville fire station Wednesday night for newly-organized Boy Scout Troop 49.

The charter was presented to Robert Laughlin, president of the firemen, who sponsor the troop, by Navy Chief Petty Officer James Pattison, organization and extension chairman for Cherokee Boy Scout District.

Robert Gray, district executive, and William Martin, health and safety chairman, spoke on scouting.

Taking the oath of office were Charles Wagner, institutional representative; Sherman Williams, troop committee chairman; Guy Michels, Charles Angle and Jack Stover, troop committee; Scoutmaster Terry Wright, and Vern Whittington and George McDole, assistants.

There are 14 boys in the troop. Roy Wilkinson of the Grandview Mission gave the invocation. Refreshments were served.

Court Grants Week To End Road Dispute

An additional week's time for further negotiations between Sam Caplan, city scrap iron dealer, and the Ohio Highway Department over a Monroe St. section needed for the Route 30 Freeway was granted by Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon Wednesday.

The state has offered $9,000 for two parcels of the north end of Monroe St., amounting to about half an acre, between W. 7th and W. 8th Sts. where the junk yard is located.

Judge Sharp yesterday pointed out the site inside the yard was dedicated as a public street although has never been opened and has been used by Caplan under claim of title for 35 years.

State authorities said the tract is needed for the proposed freeway, and the use of the land has been settled with the city of East Liverpool and Caplan has no title and is entitled to no compensation.

However the state has offered $1,850 for the land, $1,000 for a structure and $6,150 for damages.

Judge Sharp noted the property is occupied by large amounts of scrap material, and granted a week's time for the two parties to determine legal proceedings required to resolve the issue.

Union Official Raps Legislature On Jobless Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican leaders in the legislature are dragging their feet on helping the state's unemployed, a union official told the House Industry and Labor Committee Wednesday night.

Elmer F. Cope, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO, said: "It is a cruel joke for the legislature to be studying the need for action while thousands of families are experiencing need every day in the week."

Cope urged the committee to approve an immediate extension of the compensation period from 26 weeks to 39 as a permanent part of the law. And he called on the committee to have the extended period cover those workers who exhausted compensation in 1960 and are still jobless.

Several bills have been proposed. One calls for a so-called trigger clause provision which would require that the unemployment rate must be at least 6.5 per cent among covered workers for each week in a calendar quarter before additional compensation is paid.

Cope called that measure "a gesture that does not even begin to meet the problem."

Scout Leaders Picked For New Elton Units

George Eells has been named scoutmaster for the new Elton Boy Scout Troop and Paul Milhoan and Delmar Harrold will be assistants.

Kenneth Eells and Ernie Gontor will be cubmaster and assistant, respectively, for the new pack for boys 8 to 11. Den mothers are Mrs. George Eells, Mrs. Harrold Eklene and Mrs. Ernie Gontor.

The two units are sponsored by the Elton Methodist Church. Any one interested may attend the next organization meeting Feb. 2 at 7:30 p. m. at the Elton School.

Leetonia Couple Asks $60,000 In Traffic Suit

LISBON — A $60,000 damage suit has been filed in Common Pleas Court in connection with a 1959 traffic mishap in Leetonia, which involved a Leetonia couple and a Columbiana area woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carney of Leetonia filed the suit against Estella G. Esterly of Columbiana R. D. 1. Mrs. Carney asks $50,000 for injuries and Carney seeks $10,000 for loss of his wife's services, stemming from the collision Feb. 3, 1959.

Burns Claim Woman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Laura B. Fawley, 87, whose clothing caught fire from a stove in the kitchen of her home near Hillsboro, died of burns Wednesday in University Hospital here.

They Are Fewer, But Bigger; That's Story On Ohio Farms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio farms have grown fewer—but bigger, in the last 10 years.

The census showed Ohio has about 140,000 farms, compared to 200,000 in 1940. The OSU economists predict that in another 10 years this figure probably will have dropped to 115,000.

Ohio's average farm is 132 acres in size. Ten years ago it was 105 acres. But most farms still are considered family farms — those which can be operated by one man and his family, plus a small amount of hired help.

Most farm operators in Ohio, say the economists, either own their own farms or are part owners. In 1959 Ohio had only 22,256 farm tenants.

The survey report said that nearly 72,000 farm operators —

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Feigns Illness To Avoid School

You may know, or have heard about, the school child who plays sick on a school morning. I know one of them pretty well because at about the age of seven or eight, I was one of them. An Ohio mother writes: "Last spring before school was out our 11-year-old daughter had the flu and didn't want to go back to school. Each morning she would say her stomach hurt and would cry and want me to take her to school instead of riding the bus, for she said it took too long to get there and the roads were too rough. "Some days she lay with her head on the desk in school, thinking she would get to come home, but when she got home she would go out and play and nothing was wrong. The next morning it would be the same thing."

Carefully make up your mind and stick to your decisions. I hope this child reads a great deal. It would be wonderful if she would read to much younger children for their amusement. This would make her feel more worthwhile.

The big problem with her is to have her enjoy more success at school and have more fun with children her own age. Anything you can do to improve her reading should help.

Her sisters aren't sufficient to provide her with constant playmates. She needs also to play with other children her age outside of the home.

My bulletin "Helping Your Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.
